FIVE DIE IN ACCIDENT ON BATTLESHIP

FIVE PEOPLE DIE AS PLANE FALLS IN NEW JERSEY

Flames After Crash Keep Hundreds from Rescue of Wreck Victims

TEST PILOT IS KILLED

Bomber Crashes from Height of 8,000 Feet, Carrying Flier to Death

Washington, (AP)—E. C. Ritchie, test pilot of the Glenn L. Martin company of Baltimore, was killed today when the Martin bomber he was testing at Anacostia Naval Air station crashed from a height of 8,000 feet. Ritchie was alone in the plane. The crash occurred in the early afternoon.

The plane was a dive-bomber and was being tested before acceptance by the navy. Witnesses said the ship was put into a dive and that it failed to straighten out. It came down in a corn field near Bolling field, the army airport. The navy flying field is nearby.

Camden, N. J.—(AP)—Five men—two pilots and three passengers—were burned to death when a New York-Washington passenger air liner, maneuvering for a landing at the Camden airport, last night, plummeted into the soft turf of a nearby golf course and burst into flames.

Something went wrong—an investigation today hoped to fix the responsibility—and the plane dropped late into the turf. Flames wrapped about the wrecked liner as it struck the earth, driving back hundreds of persons who sped to the rescue of the crash victims. Terrific heat made rescue work impossible and the bodies of the victims could not be reached until the Pensacola fire department had extinguished the flames.

At the controls of the plane was Floyd Cox, a veteran flier with more than 3,000 hours flying experience. In the cabin behind were Vernon Lucas, a fellow pilot going back to his Washington home after a flight to New York; Elmer Smith, advertising manager of the Washington Herald; George B. Taylor, director of the laboratory division of the Chestnut Farms dairy in Washington; and Francis R. Ehle, of Riverton, N. J., president of the International Resistance company.

All were burned beyond recognition, although none were crushed. Cox had his hand on the stick, apparently having died desperately striving to save the lives of himself and his charges.

Police Guard Plane
Police of Camden and other towns were on duty during the evening and night, protecting the plane from those who sought a souvenir and also keep it intact for investigators of the airline and national aeronautical men.

The plane, a low winged Lockheed Orion monoplane owned by a subsidiary of the Ludington lines, had left Newark, N. J., at 8:45 p. m. for Washington. It was operating on a 62 minute schedule.

At the airport was Mrs. Blanch Ehle, awaiting the return of her husband from a business trip to New York. She and Ehle planned to hurry home to Riverton where a small son and daughter awaited "daddy's" arrival to start dinner. When the plane crashed, Mrs. Ehle screamed and fainted.

One witness maintained the plane flopped over before it dived. The ground keeper of the golf club, who was nearest, and was the first to reach the blazing wreckage, asserted the motor stopped and the plane went like a bullet toward the green.

Smith's slightly burned hand was found 100 yards from the ship, leading to the belief that the plane caught fire before it landed. No one, however, saw flames before the ship struck the ground, and officials of the Ludington line feared fire had occurred in the air.

Child Dies From Burns About Chest

Lawrence Lemmers, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore J. Lemmers, route 1, Little Chute, was fatally burned while playing near an oil stove at his home Thursday morning. The boy was taken to Appleton, where he died at about noon.

The accident occurred at 7 o'clock in the morning while the child's parents were at work in the barn. Agnes Lemmers, 4, who was in the house, immediately called the parents. By the time they reached the house the child's clothing was completely burned and he was severely burned about the face and chest.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at St. John church with the Rev. John J. Sprangers in charge. Besides the parents the child is survived by two sisters, Agnes and Ethel Mae.

BANK AT MATTOON LOOTED BY YEGGS

Electric Torch Used to Cut Hole Into Safe—$4,500 Is Taken

Antigo—(AP)—Burglars using an electric torch cut a hole in the safe of the State bank at Mattoon, Shawano county, today and escaped with $4,500.

The safe, of steel three inches thick, was still warm when Cashier W. B. Cramer went to work this morning.

The yeggs used the bank's electricity, the meter indicating that the torch required as much current as the bank ordinarily uses in a month.

Around the safe were five milk cans, partly filled with water. Water was brought, apparently, to guard against fire.

Only currency was taken, it was indicated by a heavy check made by Dr. W. B. Cramer, president of the bank. The hole in the safe was just large enough to permit entry of a hand. Before setting to work the yeggs cut wires of the electric burglar alarm, and no one was aroused by their presence. They entered through a basement window.

The loss is covered by insurance, the cashier said. He and officials came to Antigo this morning for cash to transact the day's business.

BELOIT, KENOSHA ABOVE GOALS SET FOR RELIEF FUNDS

New York—(AP)—Nearly $30,000 has been raised by community chest campaigns in 32 cities, the Association of Community Chests and Councils reported yesterday to Walter S. Gifford and Owen D. Young, heads of presidential relief and unemployment committees. The total was 12.8 per cent higher than the amount raised by the same cities last year.

Outagamie County Chapter of the American Red Cross and the City Officials' Relief organization. The City Relief society has notified Judge Heinemann that it will work independently unless a social welfare worker is appointed and the Jewish Ladies Aid society also has indicated it will not join the cooperative movement unless such a worker is engaged.

Bachman Treasurer
While the drive for funds is to be conducted by a citizen's committee, which will be named within a few days by Judge Heinemann, the council last night voted unanimously to set the goal at $30,000.

The welfare council, however, will be in charge of the distribution of funds and administration of charity work. The council also voted last night to make Fred E. Bachman, city treasurer, the custodian of the relief fund.

The council adopted a tentative organization plan which may be changed when formal business sessions start. The plan provides for each cooperating agency to be represented on the welfare council by one member and the administrative body will be the executive committee. The Citizens' campaign committee, to be named by Judge Heinemann, will be an independent body and its only purpose will be to conduct the drive to raise the funds for relief.

Cooperate With City

Judge Heinemann poured out that the new organization is designed to cooperate with municipal relief agencies. A secretary to be named by the council will be in charge of the organization, which will be in charge of the distribution of funds and administration of charity work.

LIBERAL PARTY TO BACK WET PLANK

Pennsylvania Group Is Planning to Organize on National Basis

Pittsburgh, Pa.—(AP)—Samuel Harden Church, president of the Carnegie Institute, said today that a national Liberal party would be organized with an outright wet plank in its platform, and hold a convention in 1932 to nominate candidates for president and vice president.

The Liberal party in Pennsylvania supported John M. Hemphill, also the Democratic nominee for governor against Gov. Gifford Pinchot in the last general election, when Hemphill polled nearly 400,000 Liberal votes. Church was an active leader of the Liberals.

"After the experimental campaign in Pennsylvania," Church said, "it was determined that the Liberal party should effect a national organization."

He said the party's platform also would include demands for immediate reduction of 20 per cent in the tariff; issuance of one billion dollars in silver certificates based upon the purchase of an equal value of silver bullion; remission of a part of the war debts; abandonment of price fixing in agriculture; restoration to the state legislatures of the choice of United States senators; protection of labor against unemployment; a conference seat in the league of nations; and membership in the world court.

The wet plank will propose repeal of the eighteenth amendment and return of control of the liquor question to the states under a system of local option, he said.

JAPANESE ROUT CHINESE ARMY, DISPATCH SAYS

Report to Tokio News Agency Claims Complete Victory for Japs

Tokio—(AP)—Japanese troops crushed a Chinese army in a three-day battle in Manchuria and sent them flying northward in disorderly retreat, said a dispatch from Mukden today to the Rengo News agency.

The Japanese lost 130 killed in the Nonni river bridge-head area in north-central Manchuria. The battle ended at 10:30 this morning when reinforced Japanese launched an offensive which dislodged the Heilung Kiang province army.

Japanese scouts reported the Chinese rear guard passed a town three miles north of the Nonni river bridge an hour later.

Japanese airplanes rained bombs upon the fleeing Chinese, throwing them into panic and increasing the disorder of their retreat.

The dispatch to the Rengo News agency said only three Japanese companies bore the brunt of the severe fighting north of the Nonni river, which began Wednesday. They opposed Chinese tenfold more numerous and possessing cavalry and artillery.

Considerable losses appeared to have been suffered by the Chinese. The war office here asserted the Japanese force in the Nonni river area, including today's reinforcements, was about 900 men, including three batteries of artillery.

REPUBLICANS TO FIGHT FOR CONTROL OF HOUSE

Washington—(AP)—In spite of the reverses which for the first time in 13 years have put them in the minority, the Republicans plan to dispute Democratic organization of the house.

The gain of a numerical superiority by the Democrats was said today by Representative Snell of New York, one of the Republican contenders for the speakership nomination, not to have altered Republican plans.

"We are not going to quit just because the Lord has taken some of our members," he said, adding, "We are going to be an important part of this congress regardless of whether we are the Democrats or the Republicans."

"We will hold our conference November 30 as planned to select a committee for the speakership. We will go right ahead with our organization as if we were in the majority. It will not be determined until the roll is called for the election of a speaker whether the Democrats or the Republicans will control the new house."

Death Cuts G. O. P. Rank In Congress

H. M. Wurzbach, Lone Texas Republican Member of House, Succumbs

San Antonio, Texas—(AP)—Death struck unexpectedly in the Republican ranks of congress today, removing Harry M. Wurzbach of Seguin, the only Republican representative in the House from Texas.

Wurzbach's passing strengthened the probability that the house will be organized by the Democrats and that another Texan, Representative John Garner, will become the speaker. The house standing now is Democrats 217, Republicans 214, Farmer Labor 11, vacancies 3.

The Texas Republican, 57 years old, died of complications following an appendicitis operation last Monday.

Wurzbach had served in congress from the Fourteenth Texas district since 1921, and last November achieved his most impressive triumph at the polls.

Despite opposition from R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman and other state party leaders, Wurzbach went on as a congressional office in Texas. He often said that but for support of Democratic voters, he could not stay in congress.

But when he was asked to support Representative Garner for the speakership on the group's of state loyalty, Wurzbach firmly replied: "No. 'I am a strict party man'."

Under the Texas law as interpreted by authorities here, a special election must be held within 30 days to elect a successor.

The Republicans today were without a succession of a single outstanding candidate who would be able to attract the following that Wurzbach enjoyed in the district, and it appeared doubtful that any other Republican could successfully oppose some well known Democrats likely to aspire to the vacant seat.

Mr. Wurzbach was a native of San Antonio. He is survived by his widow. Funeral services probably will be held on Sunday.

RISKE MURDER CASE GIVEN TO WAUPACA JURY

Only Two Verdicts Possible, Judge Parks Instructs Jurors

A jury in circuit court at 12:35 this afternoon began deliberating on the fate of Edward Riske, 49, New London, charged with the murder of Louis Hoffman, also of New London.

In the final arguments to the jury this morning defense counsel charged that the state had erred in failing to arrest Mrs. Hoffman, who they allege, committed the murders. Mrs. Hoffman drowned herself in the Wolf river at New London, they charged, because she was guilty of the murders and was afraid of being found out. They charged Mrs. Hoffman pushed liquor which her husband had in the house, and that he invited Koptitzke to have a drink with him and that both died as a result. They charged that she had as her motive the ill-feeling which remained from the time a year ago when her husband had abandoned her. They pointed out that Mrs. Hoffman had cared for her family during the period of abandonment and that she would hardly have then admitted committing suicide unless there was some strong reason. They said that her suicide was proof of her guilt. They pointed out that Riske would hardly poison liquor carried by Koptitzke in an effort to murder Hoffman.

The defense charged the state had failed to prove that Riske had access to strychnine at the time when he stayed and it also failed to prove that he had any knowledge that there was liquor in the car or in the party on the night of the dance. They also charged that the state failed to prove that Riske had any illicit relations with Mrs. Hoffman. They stated that Hoffman on various occasions had asked his wife to get a divorce and that after his return home following the abandonment of his family, there had never been a reconciliation between the two.

Attempts by the prosecution to introduce affidavits, allegedly given by Mrs. Hoffman in advance of her death, were ruled out by the court on the ground that Riske was not present or represented when they were secured. The district attorney called attention to this fact in his arguments.

Two Verdicts Possible

In his charge to the jury, the judge pointed out that Riske must be found guilty either of murder in the first degree or otherwise he must be found not guilty. He said that a verdict of guilty in the first degree was the only one which the law could recognize in this case. He also pointed out that the jury was to decide on the question of whether or not even evidence was a case of circumstantial evidence and a jury was only as strong as its weakest link. He said that the jury must find the facts in the case and then apply the law to them.

The jury retired for deliberations at 1:30 p. m. and the judge said he expected to hear from them by 4 p. m.

Tragedies Occur Aboard Colorado and Maryland on Pacific Coast

BULLETIN
Herbert E. Lutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville S. Lutz, 235 N. Meade st., was shot in the leg when a shell accidentally exploded yesterday on the battleship Colorado, according to a telegram received by the parents here. The exact extent of the injuries was not indicated. Young Lutz, who will have been in the navy three years next February, was transferred to the Colorado about a month ago. Prior to that time he was on the Lexington, an aircraft carrier.

Another Appleton man, Clarence Herzfeldt, 911 N. Ellist, was on the Colorado when the ship caught fire about a year ago in Cuba. Herzfeldt was stationed on the Colorado for about a year and a half. He received his discharge Nov. 10, 1930.

San Pedro, Calif.—(AP)—Death took two more men today from the list of those injured by a series of accidents involving the Unit 4 state navy aboard the Pacific coast yesterday, bringing the number of dead to seven.

Clarence E. Swift, seaman, died on the hospital ship Relief, anchored in the harbor here, the fifth fatality of an accident on the battleship Colorado, which resulted from the explosion of an anti-aircraft gun. Two officers and another seaman are dying but five others, less seriously hurt, probably will recover.

America Renews Protest Against Conflict In Manchuria

JAPS STAY ON GUARD ALONG NONNI RIVER

15 Japanese, 120 Chinese Reported Killed During Struggle

Washington—(AP)—A renewed American protest against armed hostilities in war-torn Manchuria lies before the Japanese government. Its contents carefully guarded, the note was presented yesterday to Baron Shidehara, the Japanese foreign minister, by Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes.

As have been other representations of this government to prevent open war between China and Japan, the communication maintained the country's attitude of strict neutrality. In Tokio the government considered it a "friendly representation."

Despite this, however, no doubt was left of the United States' belief that peace should be allowed to settle over the strife-torn regions of Manchuria where fighting has broken out anew in recent days.

Tokio—(AP)—On the threshold of the Russian sphere of influence in Manchuria and only a few miles from the Chinese army which had withdrawn in the face of their deadly fire, Japanese troops stood today in the face of the Japanese government's consideration of a carefully guarded American note regarding the new hostilities.

The 300 Japanese troops occupied all important points in the vicinity of the railway bridge spanning the Nonni river, scene of the battle Wednesday night and Thursday morning in which 15 Japanese and 120 Chinese were killed and 200 Chinese and many Japanese wounded.

Assigned to guard the bridge while a Japanese crew repaired damage done recently in Chinese factional strife, the Japanese retaliated with concentrated fire when hostile Chinese troops started shooting.

The Chinese, under General Mah Chan-Shan, withdrew in the direction of Anganchi, a few miles to the north after the battle and the Japanese took up positions in the hills commanding the bridge site.

Official circles guarded the contents of the new American note, but referred to it as a "friendly representation." The Tokio government announced its troops would not advance upon Anganchi or the more important neighboring city of Tsitsihar unless the Chinese soldiers continued to molest the Japanese bridge guards.

Japs Acquit General
Japan acquitted General Mah himself of all blame in connection with the fierce fight. Reports indicated that Chinese who started the shooting were formerly under command of General Wan Fu-Lin, supporter of Chang Hsueh-Liang, young warlord and governor of Manchuria under the Chinese nationalist regime. General Mah had promised he would not interfere with the Japanese repair operations.

The Japanese explained that the troops loyal to Chang Hsueh-Liang, who had been incorporated into General Mah's army but recently, probably were seeking revenge for the Japanese occupation of southern Manchuria.

Having gradually extended their sphere of occupation, the Japanese troops today were encamped at Tshing, about six miles north of the Nonni river and in the hills commanding an excellent view of the bridge.

In such positions the Japanese, Chinese and Russian interests were at close quarters. A few miles to the north runs the Chinese Eastern railway, jointly managed by China and Russia but staffed with Russians. Anganchi is the northern terminus of the Taonan-Anganchi railway, which was built by Chinese with the aid of Japanese capital and which serves as an important feeder line to the Japanese-operated South Manchurian railway. The fighting had ceased, however.

To Withdraw Forces
Japanese authorities reiterated that their forces would be withdrawn from the Nonni river as soon as repairs to the bridge are completed, which it was estimated would require a fortnight, providing there are no further unexpected incidents.

Anganchi is about two miles south of the Chinese Eastern railway. Japan insists, however, she had no intention of occupying the important key city unless Chinese troops forced her to take this step.

It was also denied in Tokio that Moscow and Japan had a "secret understanding" regarding the Chinese Eastern railway property. Rumors have persisted that the Soviet was preparing to set guards to strategic points along the line.

United States Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes delivered the new American note to Baron Shidehara, Japanese foreign minister, today. The document was closely guarded, owing to Washington's desire for secrecy.

No Verdict In Simmons Poison Trial

Lebanon, Ind.—(AP)—The five weeks long trial of Carrie Simmons for the poison murder of her daughter, Alice Jean, 10, ended last night without a verdict.

A jury of farmers, unable to agree after 48 hours deliberation, reported a verdict was impossible, and was discharged by Circuit Judge John W. Hornaday at 5:25 p. m. The vote stood eight to four for acquittal on the final ballot.

The jurymen had deliberated since Tuesday night on whether Mr. Simmons slipped poison-filled capsules into sandwiches she prepared for a family reunion picnic here last June 21. Alice Jean and her sister, Virginia, 14, were fatally stricken after eating the sandwiches, and several other persons were made seriously ill.

Mrs. Simmons is in the county jail, but her attorneys moved to admit her to bail. Judge Hornaday announced he would hear their arguments today.

During the 21 days of testimony in her trial, the state sought to show her part in preparation of the sandwiches, and introduced an Indianapolis druggist who testified she purchased poison from him three days before her daughter died.

The defense countered with a Bargarville, Ind., farm woman who said it was she who purchased the poison, and Mrs. Simmons' attorneys openly pointed suspicion at the defendant's brother-in-law, Horace M. Jackson, who, they contended, was at odds with the Simmons family, and had ample opportunity to slip poison into the sandwiches.

Prosecutor Ben M. Seafre indicated Mrs. Simmons may be retried.

CORRUPTION HINTED IN BUETOW'S SUIT AGAINST ROAD BODY

State Officials Subjected to Adverse Examination at Madison

Madison—(AP)—Insinuations that corruption in the state highway commission was partly responsible for the removal of Walter C. Buetow, as state highway engineer last June, cropped up in the adverse examination of state officials yesterday as Buetow's counsel pressed his suit for reinstatement.

The officials subjected to the adverse examination were Karl G. Kurtenacker, secretary, and Thomas J. Pattison, chairman of the highway commission, and A. E. Garey, director of the bureau of personnel.

Kurtenacker was first asked by Attorney Robert M. Rieser, counsel for Buetow, the purpose of the "executive session" of the commission, in one of which Buetow's resignation was voted. Kurtenacker replied that every member is entitled to free expression of his opinions in an executive session.

"Do you consider that the proper way to conduct public business?" Rieser asked. That brought on a clash in which Deputy Attorney General F. M. Wylie interposed an objection.

Rieser next asked the commission secretary if it was not true that he had instructed M. W. Torkelson, acting highway engineer, after Buetow left, to notify the "calcium chloride people" that the commission thereafter would be favorable to them.

Wylie also objected to this as immaterial and Rieser retorted, "not immaterial, but embarrassing."

Kurtenacker denied ever giving those instructions and he then was asked if the specifications on two jobs in Kenosha and Sheboygan-cos had not been changed to benefit the calcium chloride interests.

"Those are county jobs and don't know anything about them," the secretary said. He denied knowledge of any cases in which specifications were altered.

GOVERNMENT PLANS REPAIR OF 3 LOCKS

Structures at Princeton, Berlin and Menasha to Be Overhauled Next Winter

The U. S. War department will spend approximately $38,000 repairing federal locks at Berlin, Princeton and Menasha during the winter. It was announced today by Nelson Wightman, government engineer. Between 40 and 50 men will be employed on the various repair jobs.

This work will not be started until navigation closes late this month. The program will consist of installation of new gates, reconstruing of lock walls, and renovation of the miter-sills.

Construction work on the new government dam will probably be completed early next week. Mr. Wightman said. The last portion of concrete on the north spillway is now being poured. Eight sluice gates have been installed and the concrete work on the south spillway is finished.

STEAL SUPPLIES AT ROYALTON GARAGE

Burglars Get About $200 Worth of Goods, Nicholas Stadler Reports

The Nicholas Stadler garage at Royalton was burglarized Thursday night of $200 worth of automobile supplies including tires, batteries and brake lining. The burglary was discovered by Mr. Stadler at 7 o'clock this morning when he went to work. He found the front door open and the door glass shattered. There was no money in the shop, and nothing but the supplies were disturbed. Sheriff Arthur Steenbock of Wau-paca-co is investigating.

Marshal Petain "Puts One Over" On American Public

New York—(AP)—Marshal Henri Petain, one of France's war-time strategists, still knows a trick or two.

The white-haired general, who decried "they shall not pass" when the Germans threatened Verdun, was homebound today, chuckling over a ruse whereby he saw New York and Boston incognito after he had officially left the United States.

The marshal came over for the Yorktown fete last month. He was dined by patriotic societies, showered by New York ticker tape, presented with honorary degrees praised in innumerable speeches, loaded with medals and hailed by parading thousands.

But, hardly a moment did he have to do, quietly and without the furor attendant on greatness, what he most wanted to do. That is, explore some of the sights of New York and Boston.

So Oct. 27 the marshal went to Newport, R. I., to be entertained with a parade and speech-making commemorating the 151st anniversary of the landing of Rochambeau. After that was over, there came the next day a dispatch saying:

"Two French destroyers steamed out of Newport today headed homeward with Marshal Henri Petain."

That evening Marshal Petain, smiling, turned up at Boston. With the aid of General Pershing, the French navy and the proper American officials, he had slipped off the destroyer in a motor boat, landed quietly and gone off in a big motor car to have some fun.

With him were General Comte de Chambrun and an aide, Capt. Michel L'Epine. General Pershing, an old pal who made most of the arrangements for the ruse, showed him over some of the Massachusetts city. Other old friends also acted as his guide. Then he came to New York and with the Waldorf-Astoria keeping his presence a close secret to avoid a new flood of invitations to functions, he slipped quietly in and out clad in civics. He went to Broadway shows, visited the stock exchange, and mingled with the public everywhere. No one suspected he was one of the great heroes of the war.

So yesterday, after having a grand time, he really sailed back to France.

The first intimation that the marshal had not sailed on Oct. 28 came a few days ago when an announcement was made here that he would not go to Philadelphia to attend a reception because he was tired. The announcement was made by mistake by some one who didn't know the general was supposed to be incognito—was supposed, indeed, to be in France.

Up to that time even French newspapers here were unaware of his presence.

SEWER WORK HELPS CUT POOR DEMANDS

Procedure Costs City more, but Officials Are Satisfied With Results

Although handwork on the Alvin-st sewer is costing the city about 25 per cent more than machine work, city officials are gratified with the results of the first leg of the employment relief program.

All the 21 men who reported for work on the sewer have stuck to the job, which pays 60 cents a foot for digging a nine-foot trench. Each man is given a 25-foot section, for which he is paid $15. Some diggers have finished a section in three or three-and a half days, while others require four or four and a half days to dig this stretch.

If only an 8-foot trench is dug, diggers are paid 50 cents an hour, and 40 cents for a 7-foot trench. They are paid seven cents a foot for backfill.

At Stevens Point, where this method of providing employment for city aid cases was tried last year, it is reported that the poor demand was cut 50 per cent when indigents were given a work ticket instead of a meal ticket. In that city methods were used to keep the ground thawed all winter long so the indigents could dig throughout the cold season.

FOX RIVER TRAFFIC ON INCREASE IN OCTOBER

There was a slight increase in navigation on the Fox river between De Pere and Portage during October compared to the same month in 1929, according to Nelson Wightman, government engineer. Last month the government locks between these two points were opened 4,055 times. Approximately 45,000 tons of freight, most of which was composed of coal shipments for various mills, passed through the locks. There were 233 passengers transported up and down the river between Portage and De Pere during October.

city methods were used to keep the ground thawed all winter long so the indigents could dig throughout the cold season.

Anderson Faces 14-25 Year Term For Second Degree Murder

JURY CONVICTS HIM; SENTENCE DUE TOMORROW

"I Feel I Got a Break and Am Satisfied," Slay-er Declares

Milwaukee—(AP)—Convicted of second degree murder, Arvin Anderson, 23, confessed slayer of his 19-year-old sweetheart, Mabel Olen, will be brought into municipal court here tomorrow for sentence on the verdict which carries a penalty of from 14 to 25 years in state prison.

A jury of 11 men and one woman agreed after four hours' deliberation that the slaying of the attractive stenographer at her home here Sept. 12 was prompted either by accident or jealous rage and was without premeditation.

"I feel that I got a break and am satisfied," Anderson said after the jury's verdict was announced late yesterday.

Anderson, in the course of his testimony, described the shooting as accidental, prompting the withdrawal of a special plea of not guilty by reason of temporary insanity. He claimed he had intended to dissuade the girl from keeping a date with another man by threatening her with a revolver and in the ensuing struggle the gun was discharged.

Anderson expressed regret that he was bound by oath to bare intimate details of his relationship with the dead girl, and also her relationship with other men as he reviewed events of the trial in his cell.

Mabel's elderly mother and her sister Violet, 24, who found the girl's body, pierced by four bullets, when they returned home from a shopping trip, expressed dissatisfaction over the verdict.

"He was guilty and should have been given life imprisonment," the mother said.

The defendant's father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, Duluth, Minn., and his brother, Harry, Green Bay, were in the courtroom when the jurors returned.

It was to Henry Anderson's home that the slayer fled after shooting Miss Olen in a bedroom of her home, where Anderson was treated as a member of the family because of his apparent interest in the girl. After hiding in Chicago for two weeks he returned to Green Bay and submitted to arrest on the advice of his brother.

In closing arguments Walter Hoff, assistant district attorney, told the jury the plea the shooting was accidental was "merely a trick to throw dust in the eyes of the jury." He pictured Anderson as "a worldly man who preyed on the affections of a girl 10 years younger than himself."

"Mabel was not without sin in this case," said Dennis Sullivan, defense attorney. "She was as much to blame for the tragedy as this defendant with her tantalizing triflings with the love of a man."

ARRANGE PLANS FOR FARMER'S INSTITUTE

Plans for the farmer's institute to be staged at Hortonville on Dec. 8 and 9 were discussed at a meeting of the local committees at Hortonville last night. Gus Sell, county agent, attended the meeting. The two day programs will be furnished by the farm institute department of the state department of agriculture. On the first evening the local committee will provide a program of entertainment and on the second evening an old time dance will be held. The committee is planning on having larger crowds for its institute this year.

Speakers this year will include George M. Briggs, crop specialist; J. H. Hall, farm management expert, and R. A. Kolb, a farmer from Chelsea. All these speakers are furnished by the state. Mr. Sell also will talk.

SET DATE FOR TRIAL OF ABORTION CASE

Mrs. Sommers is charged with performing an illegal operation on a girl who had been employed as a domestic in a First ward home.

SIMPLE MACHINE PRODUCES GREAT ELECTRIC ENERGY

Inventor Goes Back Close to First Principles of Electricity

New York—(AP)—By a device almost as simple as Franklin's kite, R. J. Van de Graaff, a young American scientist, produces enormous voltages of electrical energy.

His discovery will be developed immediately at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to 15,000,000 or 20,000,000 volt capacity for experimenting with the possibility of transmitting the elements on a practical, commercial scale.

This revolutionary electrical development is announced by the American Institute of Physics, a new scientific organization backed by leading American physicists and directed by Dr. Henry A. Barton. Van de Graaff's first machine will be displayed Tuesday night at the inaugural dinner here of the institute. One purpose of this organization is to acquaint the public with worthwhile scientific developments.

The dinner will be addressed by Dr. Arthur H. Compton, American Nobel prize winner, who will describe the revelations of new physics made recently at the international meeting of physicists at Rome.

Develops Machine

Van de Graaff went back close to first principles of electricity, to a field that has been largely passed by in the rush of electrical discovery. While at Princeton university, as a national research council fellow, he developed a machine which produces great electrical energy much as the old-fashioned endless chain in a well will a large bucket with water.

Van de Graaff's endless chains are endless belts of five-and-ten cent store silk ribbon. They gather electricity on their surfaces by passing close to brushes connected with direct current generators. This electricity is carried up the ribbon belt to the inside of a metal sphere, the size of a bushel basket. There another brush takes the electricity off the ribbon and deposits it upon the inside of the sphere.

But electricity won't stick on the inside of the sphere. It gathers immediately on the outer surface. So the sphere accumulates a charge. Just like filling a water bucket. One of Van de Graaff's belt carries positive electricity to one sphere and the other belt negative electricity to the other globe.

Negligible Cost

When the globes are fully charged the electricity discharges between them in a lightning flash. With apparatus costing but $20 Van de Graaff produces a 1,500,000 volt discharge.

Bigger spheres mean still greater voltages. For the Massachusetts Institute of Technology experiments Van de Graaff will build globes 15 feet in diameter. These are expected to give 15 to 20 million volts, but it is estimated that the device can be enlarged to a 50,000,000 volt power. The young scientist is now on the staff of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and will house his big globes in a detached dock, a great hanger on the estate at Round Hill of Col. E. H. R. Grosvenor, where the institute has a scientific experimental station. The research corporation is giving financial assistance for the transmission experiments.

THREE KAUKAUNA LOTS ARE SOLD AT AUCTION

Three lots in Kaukauna and a building containing bakery shop equipment were sold at public auction by Sheriff John Lappen at the courthouse this morning for $1,000 to satisfy a mortgage foreclosure judgment. The judgment was granted by Judge Edgar V. Werner in circuit court on Sept. 11, 1930. The property was formerly owned by George Streiter, et al. Kaukauna, and the mortgage was held by the First National bank. The bank purchased the property today.

FRANK JOHNSON APPOINTED AS DESK SERGEANT

New Official Will Assume His Duties Saturday—Topped List of Six

Police officer Frank N. Johnson this morning was appointed desk sergeant for the police department by Chief George T. Prim to fill a vacancy existing for several months. Mr. Johnson will take over his new work tomorrow.

Although four police officers passed the examination for promotion prepared by the police and fire commission, only Johnson's name was certified to Chief Prim for appointment. It was explained that Johnson had the highest rating. The decision to certify only one name was reached at a special meeting of the police and fire commission last night. The examination was held several days ago and names of eligible officers were announced Wednesday, but the certification was not made to the police chief until this morning. Others who passed the examination were Walter Henry, Ericson, Carl Radtke, and Joseph Rankin.

Officer Johnson began his duties on the police department March 6, 1923. He spent his spare time studying law and on Aug. 4, 1930, he was admitted to the state bar after passing the state bar examinations. Officer Johnson also is a member of the Outagamie co. bar.

CONDUCT INVESTITURE CEREMONY FOR SCOUTS

An investiture ceremony for one tenderfoot and two first class scouts was demonstrated at a "parents' night" program of Troop 1 boy scouts in St. Joseph school hall Thursday evening, according to Al Stoebe, scoutmaster.

Robert Bleier is the new tenderfoot member, and Wayne DeGroot and Joseph Rammer are now first class scouts. Following the program, parents of scouts were taken on a tour through the scout rooms where exhibits were displayed.

24 LEADERS ATTEND ECONOMICS MEETING

Women Are Given Lesson in Making of Hooked Rugs

Twenty-four leaders of home economics clubs attended the fourth of a series of meetings at the Appleton Woman's club yesterday. The other meetings were held this week as follows: Monday at New London, Tuesday at Seymour, and Wednesday at Shiocton. Miss Wealthy Hale, home management expert with the state department of agriculture and home economics, conducted classes at all of the meetings on the making of hooked rugs. Miss Hale also will be in charge of classes at similar monthly meetings throughout the winter. The meetings were arranged by Miss Harriet Thompson, county home demonstration agent, who assisted Miss Hale. Only local leaders attended the four county centers and they then return their clubs and repeat the instructions.

Among the leaders of local groups who attended the meeting were: Mrs. O. E. Mueller, Mrs. E. Maertz, Mrs. A. Bartlein, Mrs. Clara Steffen, Mrs. H. M. Culbertson, Miss Alice Jamison, Mrs. E. W. ## SCHOOLS IN SESSION DURING ARMISTICE DAY

Madison—(AP)—Armistice day will be observed in Wisconsin as a legal holiday by virtue of the act of the 1915 legislature but the children will have to go to school just the same. This was the report of a ruling given by Assistant Attorney General Samuel Bryan today to O. H. Plante, assistant state superintendent of public instruction.

In declaring Nov. 11 a legal holiday, the legislature forgot to amend another law which requires exercises in the schools on Armistice day and Washington's birthday, so it was presumed these programs will have to be held before classes can be dismissed.

40,000,000 DADS OF ALL VARIETIES, "Y" SECRETARY SAYS

Tells Optimists That Fathers Too Often Neglect Welfare of Sons

"There are 40,000,000 dads in the United States," George F. Werner, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., told Optimists club Thursday noon at Conway hotel, "and therefore boys should be pretty well cared for. That, however, is not always the case, for there are 57 varieties of dads, good, bad, indifferent and so on, just as there are different kinds of boys."

He named the various kinds of dads, the conscientious dad who keeps young with the kid, the train dad who has made a study of his boys who realizes that a boy is a collection of 20,000 wiggles and that each wiggle has a meaning; the swell headed dad who thinks he knows everything about boys, but whose boy knows his dad too well and who realizes that when he's in trouble he'd best go to some real man.

Then there is the pre-occupied dad who is called successful in the world but who has no time to spend with his boys or live with them as they'd like to have him; the abili dad who serves on every committee and heads various groups, but who always intends to and never does have contact with his own boy.

And there's the let-mother-do-it dad who pushes onto Mother the job of bringing up the boy and then worries lest the boy disgrace him. "Thank fortune the mother raises the boys," Mr. Werner said, "She gives them their manners, religion, ideals, ambitions and everything that counts—God bless her."

SOME DADS GROUCHY

The grouchy dad was given the honor of doubt by Mr. Werner, who said he may be ill. However, he lamented the fact the grouchy dad often looks for trouble and finds it, and when the boy gets old enough he runs away from the grouchy father.

"There is a vast army of unfortunate Dads," Mr. Werner said, "men who work odd hours or who travel a lot and don't get a chance to be with their boys often. These, and the boys whose mothers must work all the time, need the aid of agencies and societies, and afford an opportunity for other men to help."

Mr. Werner asked if the dads present were regular Dads. "If you are it is because you believe that it is a far greater thing for a boy to make a life than a living; because you would rather be known any time as a successful father than a successful business man, for to be so known is to be measured by much the larger measuring stick," Mr. Werner said.

RYAN NAMED AS PROSECUTOR IN WHATLEY CASE

Judge Makes Appointment on Motion of District Attorney

Thomas H. Ryan yesterday was named by Circuit Judge Edgar V. Werner as a special prosecutor in the case of the state versus Seaborn T. Whatley, Jr., 238 Lake Shore-dr., Chicago. Whatley is charged with manslaughter in connection with the automobile crash at Leppala's Corner on Sept. 1, when four persons were killed. Mr. Ryan was named as special prosecutor on motion of Stanley A. Stadi, district attorney. Mr. Stadi indicated at the time he issued the warrant for Whatley that a special prosecutor would be sought.

Following the accident Mr. Stadi indicated he would not press a manslaughter charge because of previous experience with supposedly similar fact conditions. It was decided later, however, to proceed with the prosecution of Whatley as a test case.

Those killed in the accident were William Marsh, 13, Chicago; Mrs. Yvonne Zurn, 45, Marshfield; Alice Zurn, 9, her daughter; and Mrs. A. H. Matthews, 60, Appleton. Whatley, driving a car owned by Marsh, father, was going north on Highway 26. At the same time a car driven by Mr. Matthews was headed west on Highway 10. The Marsh car crashed into the side of the Matthews car. The Chicago driver, in a statement to the district attorney's office, admitted he did not stop for the arterial. He said he did not see it.

Appleton Woman's club will open its clubrooms Sunday afternoons and evenings to girls' organizations in the city, according to a decision of the board of directors Thursday morning. The purpose is to enable girls to have informal or study meetings, according to Mrs. E. V. Werner, president.

Two committees were appointed to prepare local programs and arrangements for participation in the Federation's observation of the Washington bi-centennial ceremonies next spring. Mrs. A. G. It also was decided that the club sponsor a Junior Garden Club in the city, the organization to be under the direction of Mrs. Hatch. The woman's club is sponsoring the sale of Indian baskets from the Indian Mission at Wittenberg and hand made articles from Outagamie-co asylum.

Mrs. L. C. Steeper and Mrs. W. S. Taylor have been chosen to arrange a reading program for club members on International relations, a movement originating from the lecture last month of Mrs. H. Y. The local woman's group will sponsor a motion picture this winter and plans are being made to bring Elv Culbertson, bridge expert, for a one day address before club women.

Hortonville Sportsmen Have Unusual Success With Propagation Of Fish

Almost 1,000 five-inch black bass and 200 eight-inch rainbow trout were released in waters near Hortonville a few days ago as the second crop produced by the fish rearing pond constructed by Hortonville members of the Outagamie Fish and Game Protective association last spring. Hortonville sportsmen are well pleased with results and are planning the construction of additional ponds.

This pond was constructed as a result of the success achieved in propagating black bass last year in a small pond on the Reiser farm in Greenville. The Hortonville rearing pond is situated on the Arthur Schmidt farm, just west of the village, where a concrete dam was put in at the lower end of a spring hole. The pond covers a total area of about 4,000 square feet; the depth of the water varies from a few inches to almost five feet. The water comes from a bubbling spring at the west end which furnishes a constant flow of about three gallons of clear, ice cold water per minute. The flow of this spring has never varied, remaining the same regardless of heavy rains or prolonged drought.

The natural feed conditions, which must be reproduced for the successful propagation of black bass, were excellent, but were augmented. This was done by planting a quantity of chara moss or musk grass in the deepest parts, so that there is an abundance of plant life in which insects and bugs, on which the fish gets warm in June, a few cans of fish feed, abound. The spring also has an abundant supply of fresh water shrimp, the best natural food for small game fish. Completed in April The pond was completed in April and as the bass fry could not be expected until late in July, because bass do not spawn until the water gets warm in June, a few cans of fish feed, abound. The spring also has an abundant supply of fresh bass fry, the trout had already attained a growth of five inches. Because it was not thought advisable to disturb the growth of seaweed to too great an extent, all trout were not captured and moved at that time. When they were taken out last Sunday, they had attained an average size of almost eight inches and some of them were even larger. Many of the spectators who had seen the tiny trout fry released less than five months before, were skeptical of the possibility of such phenomenal growth. The bass crop came near being a failure. Because of the unusually unfavorable weather conditions the crop of bass fry at the federal hatcheries was very small, so that the federal bureau of fisheries was unable to furnish the number of bass fry which had been promised for the pond.

Fingerlings Received However, in September about 1,000 bass fingerlings, received from the sloughs of the Mississippi river, were received and placed in the pond. These fingerlings were about two and one-half inches long when received here. After having been in the pond less than two months they had grown to almost double that length and most of these removed Sunday were about five inches long. They grew more than an inch each month since being released in the pond and were all fat and healthy. They were planted in the Hortonville mill pond.

Moving picture showing the work of removing the fish and releasing them in nearby waters were taken. These will be shown at the annual meeting of the association, along with other movies depicting conservation activities carried on by that organization during the present year.

Encouraged by the results achieved with their first pond, the Hortonville sportsmen have already

LEGION SPONSORS COUNCIL CUB PACK

Committee of Oney Johnston Post Members to Name Leader

Organization of a cub pack to be sponsored by the Oney Johnston post, American Legion, is nearing completion, according to M. G. Clark, legion scout executive. The cub program will not be launched, however, until the committee has completed its study of how cub packs function and select a leader.

The committee is composed of Prof. W. E. Rogers, F. F. Morgan, Carl Sherry, August Arena, Jack Oliver and J. E. Stiffel.

The cub program is desired by youngsters under sixteen years of age, between 8 and 12 years of age. It is designed to keep boys in neighborhood gangs and does not carry them away from home for night meetings.

With a number of points in mind, the committee is planning to construct a second pond and a planning unit. The new pond will probably be constructed in the mill pond and will be used to propagate pan fish, such as carp and crappie, for release in the village mill pond.

GRANDI'S COMING VISIT

The approaching visit to this country of Signor Dino Grandi, Italy's foreign minister, following close upon those of Premier Laval of France and Prime Minister MacDonald of England, lacks the wide-spread interest that accompanied the visits of his international confreres.

More does his visit appear to be an exchange of courtesies rather than an attempt to harmonize ideas and opinions widely at variance. That Signor Grandi and the government he represents, is in sympathy with American aims as expressed by President Hoover and his administration is an evident fact.

The rise to power of Benito Mussolini during the past decade carried for a time the fear among many peoples that the sun of a new war-lord was rising on the continent of Europe. His dynamic personality along with his public utterances justified such beliefs.

But the last two years has witnessed a marked change in his attitude on international affairs. It has become more conciliatory and there is apparent a strong desire for international cooperation on the many important problems now confronting the world.

Italy's views on disarmament are particularly in harmony with those of the American administration. It is an open secret that when the American secretary of state, Mr. Henry L. Stimson, visited Italy, he was greatly satisfied with the Italian viewpoint.

While Signor Grandi is a youthful statesman, being only 36 years of age, he has demonstrated his exceptional ability in the conduct of Italy's foreign affairs and has the full support of his chief. Premier Mussolini is generally understood that he is the instigator of the proposed one year truce in armament construction to begin November first as suggested by the United States, and which now appears an accomplished fact.

Signor Grandi's visit may be expected to further cement the good-will now existing between Italy and the United States. Having views in close conformity with the most enlightened American views, the Signor and President Hoover should have no difficulty in ironing out minor questions at issue and constructing a common platform.

With every reason to assume British cooperation with the American and Italian viewpoint, these three nations will hold a hard hand to beat in the coming game of international politics.

PENSIONS AND INCOMES

A countrywide movement pushed on by political, religious, labor and educational leaders and groups for the purpose of extending the benefits of old age security laws throughout the entire forty-eight states of the Union, is rapidly crystallizing under the growing conviction that pensions represent the most kindly and the least costly of anything that may be done to provide sustenance for the aged needy.

It is not an attack upon this system, which involves many debatable factors, to point out nevertheless that it is far from accomplishing what should be, what must be accomplished in the matter of old age income or earning as distinguished from a mere gift or pension.

Before the government has performed the duty that belongs to a government, not it is true, of merely holding up and supporting its people despite their own carelessness and sometimes their cupidity, because that simply cannot be done, but in recognizing and acting upon a sound principle which should be woven into every inch of governmental fabric, that is that men and women who have given all their useful lives faithfully in the performance of labor are entitled to the assistance of an enlightened government in formulating plans, in providing expert knowledge, in safely guarding earnings, to see to it that those people reap in their declining years the just deserts they have clearly earned.

The old age pension may be described as a helping hand in time of distress, and although the amount that it costs may not be begrudged, it represents plenty of room for serious debate concerning the results that may be expected from it over a long period of years.

But a failure to provide adequate old age income is akin to building a mud house without windows or chimney and being satisfied with it merely because it shuts out wind and rain, when a modern and comfortable edifice might be constructed, although it would take care and a more determined effort.

WISCONSIN 35, MICHIGAN 12

The above figures would look good as the result of a football game or any other sort of a contest between the universities of the two states but they actually tell a story of defeat and humiliation for Wisconsin, a mortifying record for Badgerites.

Wisconsin had 35 bank robberies in the first ten months of 1931. Michigan had 12.

If Michigan could not avoid the 12, Wisconsin should have had, in proportion to population, number of banks, etc., about 7—but 35!

The Post-Crescent has a complete report from the Department of Public Safety at Lansing concerning all Michigan bank holdups.

It is easy to understand why the number is small.

The State Police are doing the work.

In the 12 attempted holdups just 25 bandits were involved, on some jobs only one, on others as many as 5.

Of these 25 bandits 17 have already been caught and 14 convicted and sentenced to long terms of imprisonment, ranging from 12 to 30 years. The other 3 are in jail awaiting trial.

Banditry has failed in Michigan because the odds against its success are too great, but, from the standpoint of "getting away with it" it has been a brilliant success in Wisconsin.

If a thug were picking a state for his operations, which would he likely select, one where detailed plans are already drawn for the purpose of throwing a small army of motorcycled police at his heels, others to block off all avenues of escape, with an instantaneous broadcast of the crime and an aroused citizenry watching every strange car and person, or the state that has the door wide open and a vacant stare in its eyes?

TRADE WINDS

Last week occurred several marked changes in conditions. In the language of the President:

"Small bank failures have almost ceased. Increase in the price of wheat by 10 to 12 cents a bushel and cotton by $15 to $20 a bale. It is no longer advantageous to ship gold abroad. Not only has hoarding ceased but actually $24,000,000 of hoarded money has returned to the banks."

These are all, manifestly, excellent signs.

Most authorities agree that the return to normalcy from a depression will be a slow, arduous course, but most authorities have been wrong some time or other.

Opinions Of Others

WOMAN NIGHT WORKERS

The president's emergency committee for employment finds the action of the Cotton Textile Institute in dismissing women from night jobs decidedly commendable.

The national woman's party finds it a selfish attempt on the part of the cotton industry to save itself the expense of woman workers, since the women are reported being dismissed not only from night work but from all work.

A fair judgment probably lies somewhere between these two opinions.

It is decidedly regrettable that women must work at night, or that any one must work at night for that matter. Also it is regrettable that a mother with home and family to care for in the daytime should have to work at night, while her children are asleep, in order that they may eat. And it is even more regrettable that such a mother should be left without a job of any sort, day or night, and without anything to eat.

Until that happy time arrives when industry is so organized that neither men nor women need sacrifice health doing night work, it seems to us the only human and just way is to retain those workers, men or women, whose earnings are essential to the support of a family.—New York World-Telegram.

SOAP

That in our march toward Communistic civilization Russia is using too little soap, compared with the pro rata consumption in other countries, is very evident. The United States, for instance, consumes 10 kilograms (22 pounds) annually per person. Great Britain and Germany use 8.5 kilograms, France 7.9 kilograms, Belgium 5.9 kilograms (12 pounds), Norway 4.9 kilograms, while Russia is at the bottom of the list with only 1.2 kilograms per individual consumed each year.

In conjunction with the Five-Year Plan, the Supreme Economic Council has drawn up plans to increase the production and consumption of soap so that the U. S. S. R. may eventually equal or even exceed the quantities of soap used in the foreign capitalist countries.—Moscow (Russia) Za Industriyalizatsiu.

"NOW," GROWLED the C. E. at us yesterday, "that you are still among the living and back taking orders, do you think you can remember when the deadline occurs?" "Deadline, what's deadline?" we stalls, because for the first half of the week we've finished the column at our leisure, a luxury enjoyed by the columnists. "Well," snaps the C. E., "ask somebody." "We don't care," they might have moved it ahead.

President Hoover is willing to have Chicago get the Republican convention next year. Perhaps he is, perhaps he is, but maybe Herb doesn't even give a darn.

They are quizzing a maid in Chicago who stole $104,000 worth of jewelry. Not to find the jewelry, perhaps, but to discover who'll sell it for $104,000 worth of jewelry these days.

New York debts are going in for toeless shoes and rouge on the exposed ten little toes. The depression must be passing. America is getting nutty again.

"Working conditions," we told the boss as we answered six telephones, argued with seven visitors, wrote the column and dodged bill collectors, "are terrible around here."

"So they are, so they are," said the boss, "I'll have 'em fixed."

And now we have a new roller in our type-writer.

Somebody came rushing into the office yesterday to announce that snow was falling. And, after going through the summer of 1931 and seeing balmy day after balmy day pass in review this fall, we looked. What the dickens does snow look like, anyway?

But let it fall. We'll have to cut the grass if it doesn't.

Just Folks
By Edgar A. Guest

THE ODDS
The things men fear are glory's ripest seeds,
The darkest day brings forth man's brightest deeds.

It is the threat of imminent defeat
That ultimately makes the victory sweet
Who lives at last to triumph will at length
Recount the heavy odds which tried his strength.

Men think they wish to live their days in ease,
But peace and comfort give no victories.
In difficulty lies all true delight.
Fear becomes joy when wrongs are put to right.

The fretful failures which have tried the soul
Are glorious memories once we reach the goal.
Why are the tales of hardship proudly told?
Why do men still relive their struggles old?

Re-call to mind with pride the storms they've known
And tell the long, dark nights they wept alone
Unless the dangers which they feared the most
Have grown to be the joys they choose to boast?

Time was we thought that cruel was our fate
But now we love the woes we bore in hate.
The care that brought to frown now brings a smile
Our happiest memory is our dearest mile.

And it shall be, when we have lived them through
That these dark days shall prove our strength anew.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The marriage of Kathryn Barrett and Joseph Borin took place the previous day, Judge Kreiss performing the ceremony.

A marriage license was issued the previous day to Peter Closen and Agnes Beyer, both of Appleton.

J. L. Dalman was in Milwaukee on business. Mrs. G. Fischer was spending a few days with friends and relatives at Split Rock.

Bert Wettlaufer left that morning on a few days' hunting trip through the northern part of the state.

August H. Meyer was a visitor at Oshkosh the preceding day.

G. M. Griswold, Milwaukee, was a guest the previous day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Krugmeier.

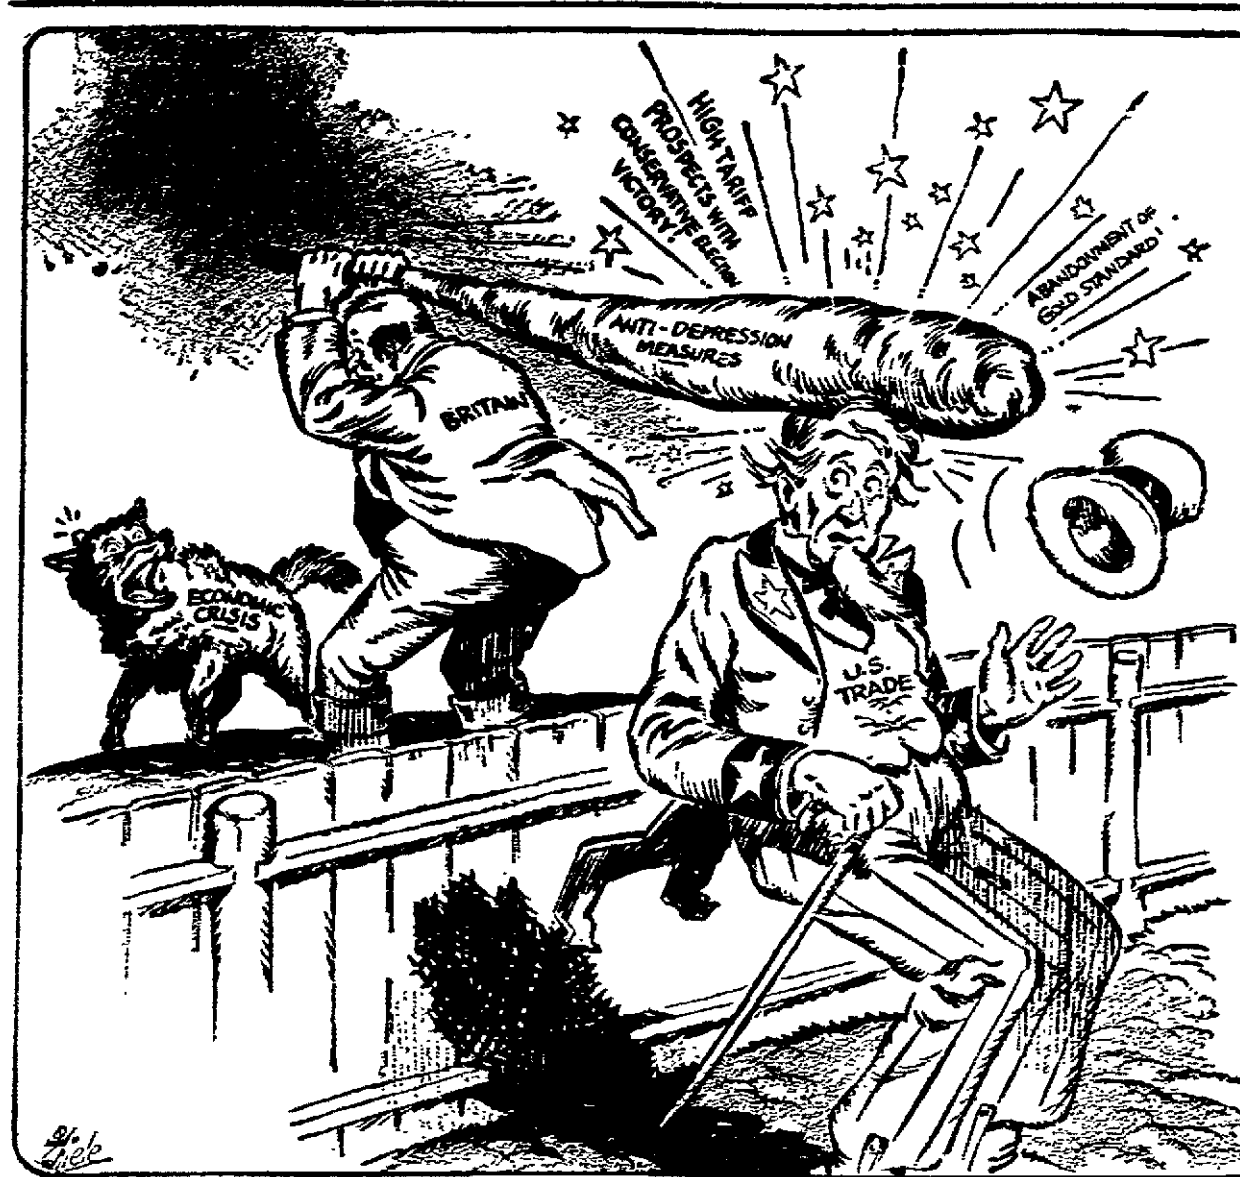

Fred Wood, who had just returned from Wyoming to spend a few days with his family, left for Ashland that morning.

Friday, Nov. 4, 1921

President Harding that day signed the joint resolution making Nov. 11 a legal holiday. Under the resolution, the holiday was to be observed that year only.

The Hazard of Being an Innocent Bystander!

Personal Health Talks

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

NEVER MIND THE DRAFT BUT BEWARE THE SPRAY

Why we have laws to curb the bores who spit in public places, yet no restraint on those who cough and sneeze in people's faces, is a mystery to me. But never mind, for here's a more important observation: The same risk lies in getting sprayed by casual conversation, if the speaker has the crip.

What is the crip and why the crip, you may well ask if you're a stickler for personal freedom. Before I can answer your question, which I can do very definitely, I beg to ask you an equally pertinent one, which I know you can't answer, and neither can anybody else: What's a cold?

Crip is any respiratory infection in the stage before a specific diagnosis is made. All health authorities know that the respiratory infections are most communicable in the stage of onset or invasion, and if you call the trouble crip till you can get a more definite name for it you are a good sport, for by calling it crip you acknowledge it is probably communicable and you give all within your range fair warning to take care they don't catch whatever you're developing.

On the other hand if you insist that your indisposition or illness is just a "cold," well, you're not playing fair with those around you.

Oh, yes? So Ole Doctor Cummins, surgeon-general of the U. S. public health service, says people may catch cold from the breeze of a fan? Maybe he says that, but here's something he dare not say—he dare not say what a cold is. He can't define a cold, because there is no such entity.

Neither can any other state or municipal health officer or commissioner tell you what "the common cold" is. They all play fox on this— they shrewdly refrain from offering a definition of the trouble they say: "You tell 'em, boob, you've got the symptoms." Or if they are very polite they express the same thing differently: "Everybody knows what a cold is." Everybody but Ole Doc Brady seems to know, yet no one will tell me. These big boys in the public health field know that the moment they attempt to explain what they mean by a cold they're lost and I'll show 'em up as droll comedians.

I spoke of your range-cough or sneeze spray has a range up to 12 feet; the spray of ordinary conversation carries less than five feet. If you wear a suitable mask or keep behind a suitable screen, you do not give the salesman, customer, teacher, pupil, ticket seller, patron, partner, companion, associate what you've got.

Even among the ignorant it is quite probable that most of the illnesses from respiratory infections (which are responsible for three-fourths of the work doctors do) is due, not to open face coughing or sneezing, but to infection carried in polite conversational spray.

So far as public health is concerned there is only one position we can take. You must either be a sport and call it crip, or be a selfish, yellow, low, mean scoundrel and insist on the right to pretend it is just a cold.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cyanide

Is potassium cyanide deadly poison? For four years I have used it in cleaning jewelry. After handling it I am not able to eat a thing, for the taste of cyanide in my throat, which persists for some 48 hours. (O. F.)

Answer—Yes, it is deadly poison. If your trouble is mild cyanide poisoning, it is clearly from inhalation of the volatile cyanide. You might arrange a suitable electric fan to blow away the vapor while you're using the solution.

Sensible Question
You may think this is a silly question, but if all the things the pharmacy textbook describes are going on inside you doesn't one feel it, and how can one send a message to the brain that you want to do a thing when one does it so quickly? (Violet)

Answer—The question is fair enough. Violet. But as a land owner to answer. All I can tell you is that there is no sensation in the internal organs. The nerves controlling internal organs or regulating their functions are connected with the sympathetic or unconscious or automatic nervous system and not with the brain or spinal cord. Think how fast radio impulses travel and how fast light and sound travel and then you can comprehend better the speed of nerve impulses.

Cleft Palate
Daughter born with slight cleft palate. When she was two weeks old doctor who does such operations advised us to wait till she began talking. Now she is 18 months old and says "Mama" and some other words quite clearly. No one can notice any difference in her voice. I wonder if the cleft can be so slight that it will not require correction? (Mrs. M. P.)

Answer—Yes, a mild cleft in the palate is inconsequential. (Copyright John F. Dille Co.)

The Tynmites

By Hal Cochran

ALL of a sudden Clowzy said, "Oh, gee! Look up there, overhead. I've never seen bananas that were half as big as those. I'll bet each one weighs half a pound." The other Tynmites gathered 'round and Scouty added, "We will have to have some, goodness knows!"

The Travel Man then bought a few and said, "Here's one for each of you. Don't eat them up too fast because 'twill likely make you ill. If lots of time you all will take, you will not get a tummy ache. They are so big, when you've had one, I'm sure you'll have your fill."

"Course he was right. One was enough. The lads were much too smart to stuff. With appetites well satisfied they started down the street. They gazed at fruit-stalls here and there. It seemed that fruit was everywhere. "Look out," cried Scouty, "or you'll tramp upon some with your feet."

Then strains of music filled the air and Coppy shouted, "Well look there!" Two Mexicans were playing on guitars. It sounded sweet. The Tynmites started in to hum, and kept time with the drum, strum, strum. Then Clowzy staged a little dance with very clever feet.

The players shortly stopped and smiled. Said one, "That was a fine, dance, child!" "Sure, I am good," said Clowzy. "Play again. I'll dance some more." And as the men began to play, he jugged in quite a funny way. In fact, it looked so comical it made the players roan.

The Tynmites shortly left and then began to look around again. They found a man with great big hair. "They're Mexican hats," said one. The hat man walked right up and said, "Who wants to try one on his head?" "We all do," shouted Coppy. And they did. "Twas lots of fun." (Copyright, 1931, NEA Service, Inc.)

Today's Anniversary

ABANDON TAGLIAMENTO
On Nov. 6, 1917, the Tagliamento river was abandoned along a 15 1/2 mile front by the Italians before the onslaught of the Austro-German forces.

The retreat was glorified by a score of heroic fights as the troops of the Italian rear guard brought the enemy again and again to a standstill and secured safety for the main armies as they established new lines on the Piave.

A thrilling phase of the retreat was the part played by the Italian armored motor corps, one of which had twice around again. They held the bridges from the Tagliamento to the Piave river until the cavalry

Seen And Heard
In New York

BY WILLIAM GAINES

New York — One does overhear amusing things in some of the late places.

For example, at a ritzy rendezvous a group about one of the tables reached the point of amplifying voices so that none about might miss the tongue-twisted conversation.

The gentlemen of the party were waxing erudite. They were tossing off words a yard line, distorted so that still later comers must have thought, at times they were a trio of foreigners.

At last one used a word in describing an absent "pal" that made him stop and wonder—"gryphonant." "Syc-o-synco-synchophant—let's see," he says, "just what is your understanding of that word?"

"Does it come from synchophant?" inquired a delighted brunet in all her deadly ambitious sincerity. Well, maybe it does, at that.

Soldiers of Misfortune

Some day soon we'll tell you more about them, these "soldiers of misfortune."

A gentleman whose desk is within two hops and a leap of mine has just received a diploma making him an honorary member of the Association of Veterans of the French Foreign Legion.

He tells me that there are 400 such vets hereabouts and that the association maintains in New York a museum of relics of all the Americans killed in the French legion service.

Also, that the association keeps up a self-help fund to see that none of their members suffers when out of a job or when he grows too seedy to get a new one.

Oddities And Endings

Marilyn Miller, so her movie company announces, will visit New York soon. But Marilyn won't be in a hurry to get back to the west coast. She got over so much bigger on the stage here.

M. McC., Indianapolis: You must have made a big hit with your letter. Madame Rasch informs me that, in your case, she thinks she could produce a ballet dancer in about six months. Yet you haven't had any experience.

J. W., Emporia, Kansas: It may delight or disappoint you if you're a professional old timer, you may be disappointed to know that they still install huge mirrors in new buildings here. The newest downtown Manhattan theatre boasts that its four lounge mirrors are the largest in the world. I advise you to check up.

A new hotel put in some mirrors of a good size, too. But when the peacocks were on parade, there was more need of big mirrors for preening, eh?

Bill N., Tankers: Yes, as any denizen of the suburbs should know, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Davis are Lawrence Saunders—a collaboration. I understand that when Davis begins to produce what he considers "literature," he will use his right name. I wasn't wrong, as usual.

Barbs

A transatlantic passenger ship landed 60 bars of silver and two kegs of gold at New York. What's that old one about sticking around and opening a keg of nails?

Several aviatrixes are planning flights across the Atlantic. None of them has asked a man to go along in case they run out of gas.

With all this yelling about subsidizing, looks like there's no way for a football player to get through college without an education.

No one does anything for nothing, but with winter in the offing everybody is a weather prophet, whether profit or not.

George Washington threw a dollop across the Potomac, but many a man has thrown a party across the ocean.

A plowing champion kept his title in a contest at Big Rock. Looks like none of his competitors could share Big Rock with him.

Stage comedians have been warned to soft-pedal depression humor. Theater operators probably can't stand it.

Holding up 14 women in a bridge party is a precarious business. In fact, supporting 14 women is a job any time.

The new head of Scotland Yard is a hard-boiled World War aviator. Henceforth lawbreakers will do less late spinning.

A headline says America leads the world in dam projects. Certainly does.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT by Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

COMMON SENSE BUT UNCOMMON BIDDING

When you sit down with a stranger to play a rubber of Bridge, the question of the system of bidding used is often an important factor. Players have their personal idiosyncrasies, and, unless you are familiar with them, the language of bidding is apt to become somewhat unintelligible and the results attained unusual, to say the least.

The other day an associate of mine told me the story of a hand he played as partner of William E. McKenney, secretary of the American Bridge League, in which through a confusion of the language of bidding, they reached an unusual and for the moment apparently an impossible contract.

South-Dealer.

North-South vulnerable.

♠ A K 5 4
♥ 10 8 7
♦ A J 5
♣ 8 7 6

♠ Q 9 8 7 6
♥ 9 8 7
♦ Q 8 7
♣ Q 5 4

♠ K J 3 2
♥ A 10 6 4
♣ K J 10 3 2

The Bidding:

(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South West North East
1♠ (1) 1♣ (2) 2NT (2) 3♣ (3)
3♣ (4) Pass (5) 4♣ (6)
Pass Dbl. Rdbl. (7) Pass

1—South, using the Culbertson System, makes the only bid under that system in his hand.

2—North's bid of two notrump is, of course, self-evident.

3—A purely nuisance Raise dictated by the fact that East and West were not vulnerable.

4—The bidding has reached too high a stage for South safely to show all three of his suits. A bid of three spades followed by a bid of four hearts might shut out a possible game in notrump. The heart suit, was selected as showing the slight rebid values contained in the hand. In view of North's strong bid of two notrump, South hopes for a final contract of three notrump but does not like to bid it because of his void in diamonds.

5—West is well satisfied with the heart declaration.

6—Mr. McKenney, believing his partner was playing his system, which provides for bidding the shortest suit first, reads South's hand as probably four clubs to the A K and a five-card heart suit, not weaker than Q J. Thus reasoned, his Raise to four hearts is logical.

7—The Redouble is optimistic. It is not always easy to rectify the mistakes in the bidding by accuracy in the play, but in this case South proved equal to that task. West opened his fourth best diamond, and South, after devoting a few moments to a study of the combined hands, played a small diamond from the Dummy. Perhaps he hoped that East would go up with his Queen but East evidently familiar with the Rule of Eleven, was content to play the 7 and South was forced to use one of his precious trumps to take the trick. It was evident that South's only chance of making the contract was based on the establishment of the club suit with the loss of a single trick. Entry in the Dummy to lead the clubs toward his minor tenace was, therefore, essential, so South laid down a heart, taking in the Dummy with the King. A small club was now led and the Knave forced West's Ace. West continued with the diamond. The Knave in Dummy was played and East covered with the Queen. South winning the trick with his third trump.

South now laid down the Ace of trumps, leaving the 5 alone in the Dummy. A small spade was led to the North hand and East discarded a diamond. Now the second round of clubs was led and on the third round East's Queen fell. South led the fourth round of clubs and West trumped. However, his two high trumps and the Ace of clubs were the only tricks he took. The hold-up of the Ace of Diamonds proved a more effective barrier to the hopes of East and West than would another trump in the Dummy hand.

The hand is most unusual apart from the conventional bidding in that the Declarer, with only four trumps in his own hand and a total of seven in the combined hands, deliberately accepted a Force and let an opponent not only with the commanding trump but with two of them.

The hand is just one of the examples, which occur wherever bridge is played, of partners misunderstanding the messages conveyed across the table. Happy is that partnership which can rectify misunderstandings in the bidding through skill in the play.

TODAY'S POINTER

In the use of Takeout Doubles it is important to distinguish between doubling when vulnerable and when not vulnerable. There is a great difference in the resultant penalty should the Doubler strike, as will happen at times, a blank hand. Consequently, although the 3 honor-trick requirement remains the same, the Double when vulnerable should show either strong intermediates or if it be a strategic Double, a fairly powerful escape trump suit.

Teach Child To Bear His Part Of Load

BY ANGELO PATRI

The one big secret of success in life is the power that lies in co-operation. Unless children can carry their share of the load in play, in work, in all that goes into daily living, they cannot make a success of it.

"Look at Bernard. All he does is give orders. He hasn't touched a stone or a stick all morning. That child is going to be a great executive. He knows enough to let the others do the work."

If that fond mother had only looked a little deeper she would have seen something far different. It was true that Bernard had not taken any share in the building that morning. But that he was the executive, the force behind the work, was far from the truth. The leader was a tiny little child with a pug nose and a toothy smile who was always in the thick of it. He shouldered every stick, he lifted his end of every load, he boosted and pushed and shoved with all his might. No call for help went unheeded and he was the first hand to lend aid whenever it was needed.

When the whistle blew the working crew looked up to Tim and one of them asked: "What time'll we come to-morrow?"

"I can come right after breakfast. How about you fellows?"

"All right for me. All right for me," went down the line until it came to Don. "I got to clean the chicken coop first thing in the morning."

"All right. What do you say, fellows, do we help Don and then all come together?"

"Sure. We'll all go together."

Nobody as much as glanced at the stodgy figure of the executive. He trailed home alone and in spite of his day's labor seemed to have little appetite.

It is the child who has the gift of making friends, who can enter into the thoughts and the games of the others and who can always be counted upon to carry his end, who has a happy life. His day will be full, his hands filled to overflowing always, but his heart, too, will overflow with the joy of living.

I have seen mothers who tried to prevent their children from serving others. "Why do you always have to do the dirty work? You make a goat of yourself for somebody else all the time."

Let those little goats alone. There is within them a force that will lead to pleasant places. It will open many doors to them. It will hold warmth and strength and breed courage in them. The feeling of responsibility for another, the bearing of another's burden, the hand to hand, shoulder-to-shoulder touch with comrades sends a thrill of joyous power through such as these and they become the leaders of men.

The chap on the sidelines stays there. The fellow who carries his end of the load goes forward.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of The Appleton Post-Crescent, inclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

GUARD COMPANY SETS RECORD IN OUTDOOR FIRING

More Men Qualify With Rifle and Pistol During Past Year

Neenah—More men of Co. I 157th Infantry, twin city Wisconsin National Guard unit, qualified during the past summer's outdoor firing than in any year since the World war, according to the annual report submitted Friday to Captain Dan Hardt, commanding officer.

The report shows 48 enlisted men qualified with the rifle, four qualified with automatic rifle, and 12 qualified with the pistol. This is out of a total enlisted strength of 68 men, of whom 59 are named with the rifle, eight with automatic rifle, and 10 with the pistol.

Of the 10 with the pistol, five are from the Wisconsin National Guards in qualifying with the rifle, pistol or automatic rifle for the outdoor season of 1930. An effort will be made to duplicate this record this season.

Not only is this year's shooting an improvement in the number of men who qualified over 1930, but there is also an increase in the number of expert and sharpshooter ratings. Of those qualified with the rifle, three made expert rating, 12 made sharpshooter rating with the pistol, three made expert and one made sharpshooter rating with the automatic rifle and one man, Private first class Lester Ziegler, made sharpshooter rating. Ziegler was last year the only automatic rifleman in the 157th Infantry to qualify with that weapon.

Sgt. Oswald Zachow led the rifleman with high score of 231 out of a possible 250; his brother, Private Harold Zachow, was second high with a score of 226, and Sgt. John Gansel was third with 224. All three made expert rating.

Leads Pistol Firing

Sgt. William G. Blank was high scorer in pistol firing with an 89 per cent; Sgt. Frank Oehlke was second with 86 per cent and Sgt. Gansel was third with 85.66 per cent. These scores give them expert rating.

Others who qualified during the season's firing, with their scores are: Rifleman—Sgt. Frank Oehlke, 223; Sgt. Howard Rusch, 221; Sgt. Matt Minton, 220; Pvt. Robert Billington, 220; Sgt. William Blank, 218; Corp. Joseph Beisenstein, 217; Pvt. 1st Class Lester Ziegler, 217; Pvt. William Jorgensen, 215; Sgt. Clifford Ziegler, 214; Pvt. Albert Lund, 214; Pvt. Charles Munsche, 214; Cpl. Wilbur Burr, 214; Sgt. Anton Fouquette, 210; Cpl. Mark Runnig, 209; Pvt. Orval Lavett, 208; Pvt. Vern Skinner, 205; Pvt. Walter Blank, 203; Cpl. Martin Arno, 201; Pvt. Alvin Huebner, 201; Pvt. Harold Solomon, 200; Pvt. John Nelson, 200; Pvt. Harry Miller, 199; Pvt. Elmer Quayle, 197; Pvt. Clyde Anderson, 197; Cpl. Raymond Koehler, 197; Pvt. Charles Thessendorf, 195; Pvt. James Christensen, 194; Cpl. John Pawlaczky, 194; Pvt. Chester Bisset, 194; Pvt. Rueben Johnson, 193; Pvt. Albert Wohlers, 193; Pvt. Elmer Burr, 193; Corp. Walter Rusch, 193; Pvt. Robert Hildebrandt, 193; Pvt. Irvin Fuss, 193; Pvt. James Beisenstein, 193; Pvt. Alvin Kuhn, 193; Pvt. Wesley Douglas, 191; Pvt. Clarence Teopler, 191; Pvt. Maurice Toennessen, 190; Pvt. Gordon Parker, 190; Pvt. Walter Lavett, 190; Pvt. Marty, 190; Pvt. Paul Remmel, 190.

In the rifle shooting, scores above 214 and below 224 give the rifleman sharpshooter rating and between 190 and 214 entitles him to a marksman rating.

In addition to those listed above, the following men qualified with the pistol: Sharpshooter—Pvt. Elmer Burr, 89 per cent; marksman—Cpl. Wilbur Burr, 77 per cent; Pvt. Charles Munsche, 75 per cent; Pvt. Maurice Toennessen, 73 per cent; Pvt. Irvin Fuss, 71 per cent; Sgt. Howard Rusch, 71 per cent; Sgt. Clifford Ziegler, 66 per cent; Cpl. ## Your Birthday

WHAT TOMORROW MEANS TO YOU

"SCORPIO"

If November 7th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:10 a. m. to 2:15 p. m. and from 6 p. m. to 9 p. m. The danger periods are from 8:10 a. m. to 9:00 a. m., from 3 p. m. to 4:50 p. m. and from 9:10 p. m. to 11 p. m.

The stars foretell for November 7th, unsettling, but generally beneficial, results. All constructive workers will benefit, such as engineers, surgeons and builders. Women will not be so fortunate, as impulsiveness will cause trouble. Love affairs will progress satisfactorily and many arranged marriages will be hastened, rather than delayed. Artistic and creative types will have anxieties in connection with intimate personal affairs.

Children born on this November 7th, will be cleverer and more skillful with their hands than with their heads. Without being malicious, they will be frank and outspoken. They will love ardently, and, being of a jealous disposition, will demand undivided affection.

You, if born on the 7th day of November, are a natural pessimist, and are very successful in dampening enthusiasm and destroying hope. You always visualize the worst, and imagine the disastrous. Without any sense of humor, you are a permanent wet blanket, and very often a kill-joy. Until the fog of your mentality is lifted, and sunshine is allowed to dissipate the mist, you will never be of much use to yourself or to others. Such is the general impression that you convey. The signs, are however, more illuminating and clearly show that the cultivation of a cheerful spirit will not be difficult and, once accomplished, would enable you to develop the many good traits that you possess.

You are, and, always have been, a painstaking student. Your sense of honor is very great; your ability is above the average; your judgment, although sombre, is accurate; your loyalty is unquestioned. In addition to these gifts, you possess hope and ambition, your success, both spiritual and material, would be assured. It would be worth your while, walking through life's intricate pathways, not to keep your eyes focussed on the ground, but as a beginning learn to look straight ahead, and then later on you will learn to look above.

Successful People Born November 7th:

1—Phyllis R. Spencer — Educator and author.

2—Leonard W. Volk—Sculptor.

3—Michael Amagros—Educator.

4—Royal Copeland — U. S. Senator.

SPECIALIZATION IS CALLED DANGER TO WESTERN EXISTENCE

U. W. Chief Says Leadership Needed as Tempo of Life Quickens

Milwaukee (AP)—We are reaping the Dead sea fruits of an era of over-specialization in western education," Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, said last night in an address before several thousand Wisconsin teachers gathered here for their annual convention.

"Although it pains me as a schoolman to admit it, I cannot but believe that western education must share the blame for this breakdown of political, social and economic leadership. It is urgently important that western man inquire into the cause of the social inadequacy of his education," Dr. Frank said.

"Politicians pounce upon the schools," he said, "whenever their large budgets seem to offer a seductive political target. The educational system suffers much criticism that is beside the point. Men whose interests manifestly are endangered by the liberation and discipline of intelligence bombard the schools whenever an honest scholar expresses an incisive judgment on a current issue.

"And peddlers of panaceas denounce the schools whenever they decline to become headquarters for this or that transient hysteria."

In the main, Dr. Frank said, specialization has given an educational system organized to train professional scholars rather than to educate men for the creation, comprehension and control of their social order. He suggested the training of scholars and education are separate and distinct processes which cannot be carried out in the same institution, in terms of the same curricula, and under leadership of the same faculties.

Leadership Needed

"The tempo of western life is so swift," he added, "that unless western man brings something more than technical skill and specialized knowledge to its navigation, this ship of western civilization, already listing dangerously, may conceivably founder and go down."

A plea for more attention to character building among pupils and students by setting a good example, rather than by preaching its virtues, was made by Judge Henry Grass of Green Bay, at an earlier session of the assembly. Judge Grass added that teachers could do much toward setting children on the right path in life, but said this responsibility rested primarily with the parents.

S. B. Tobey, superintendent of schools at Wausau, was elected chairman of the 1932 character education division; Fred Welter, Burlington, was named chairman for the grammar grade division.

Principals of the 40 Wisconsin high schools belonging to the Wisconsin Interscholastic association held their annual meeting with Volney G. Barnes, Madison, presiding. The report of F. V. Powell, Platteville, treasurer, disclosed that during the past year 245 boys were injured in high school athletics.

A question of whether the dues and benefits of the association are being equitably distributed was raised when it was pointed out that about 27,000 high schools boys are protected by the association's activities benefit fund at a cost of 35 cents per boy to the association. The matter was referred to the board of control for study during the ensuing year.

Back 'Chinese Proletariat,' Soviet Asks Its Members

Moscow (AP)—An appeal to its members to support the "Chinese proletariat" against Japanese occupation of Manchuria and a warning that war against China is "a step toward war against Soviet Russia" was issued today by the executive directorate of the International Communist party.

The appeal was made on the occasion of the celebration today of the fourteenth anniversary of the revolution in Russia.

"The leaders of all capitalist countries," the statement said, "are warring about, searching for an outlet and afraid of complete bankruptcy before the mounting swell of the proletarian revolution. The class fight is becoming more acute. The imperialists have already begun war in the east in the hope of attaining this outlet."

"This war against the working classes of China," it said, "is a war against us. Let us organize revolutionary barriers against it, in the interests of a united, independent, Soviet China."

The statement declared history now presents the question whether a capitalist or revolutionary result will be the issue of the present international crisis. It was addressed to "all workers of all countries and to the oppressed peoples of the capitalist world."

"Capitalism means the enslaving of the working classes," it said, "uniting all the black forces of the world for war against the Union of Soviet Republics; revolution would mean the establishment of a dictatorship of the proletariat and organization of millions of new fighters for the difficult but great struggle, along with the Russian proletariat, for a complete victory for Socialism."

Socialism for Russia, it said, is no longer a dream, but an actual accomplishment in which the masses themselves are building their own

IMPROVEMENT IN SAFETY DEVICES SAVES MANY LIVES

Self Starter and Bumpers on Automobiles Among New Inventions

Chicago—Although the toll of human lives taken by automobile accidents every year is alarming, it would be more so if it were not for the safety appliances which have been developed for the auto, Maxwell Halsey, traffic engineer for the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, reports in an article for The National Safety Council.

During the early history of the automobile the manufacturers had enough difficulty in building cars which would run satisfactorily," Halsey writes. "They had little time or money to devote to making their vehicles safer.

"With the mounting toll of accidents, however, they began to turn to safety devices to prevent accidents as well as to save the occupants and the cars in case of collisions."

Some of the most important of the safety devices invented, according to Halsey, were the self-starter the bumper, automatic windshield wiper, non-reversible steering mechanism, rear-view mirror, non-shatterable glass, four-wheel brakes, more rigid construction, an improvement in headlights, and stronger tires.

Tests Reveal Blows

"In 1930 motor vehicle equipment campaigns were carried on in nine states, having a total registration of 3,596,066 vehicles, of which 3,414,977 were inspected," Halsey continues. "Of all the safety equipment inspected the two devices which probably have the most to do with preventing accidents were found to be in the worst condition. Almost 57 per cent of the brakes were found to be unsatisfactory and had to be either adjusted or replaced. In the case of lights, seven out of every ten required adjustment or replacement."

Up To Manufacturer

"The car manufacturer has a definite responsibility to reduce accidents. He has provided the motorist with vehicles capable of operating far beyond the ability of drivers and existing highways to control their safety."

"The number and severity of accidents, and the amount of delay are so great that thousands of potential buyers are restrained from purchasing automobiles. The far-sighted policy of providing vehicles with the very latest safety devices must appeal to the industry."

New York—(CPA)—In May, 1926, the British government was deadlocked with 9,000,000 strikers. A quiet, scholarly outsider visited Arthur Pugh, president of the Trades Unions council. "I have a formula," he said. Pugh approved. Then Sir Herbert Samuel took his formula to Stanley Baldwin. He also approved. The strike ended.

SAMUEL

a leader of the world Zionist movement.

Swallow tail coats of the second empire surrounded Little Lily Pons, after her triumph in Lucia, at the quaint old provincial opera house at Montpelier. Nobody had ever heard of her before. Giovanni Zenatello, tenor and songbird scout, pushed through the crowd and dragged her off to America. Otto Kahn almost jumped out of the window of his penthouse to sign her up, when the metropolitan maestros phoned him about the new golden voice. All that was less than two years ago. At her debut in "Lucia" at the Metropolitan last January, weeping crowds, trying to kiss her and begging her autograph swamped the old opera house.

Her appearance at Carnegie hall Wednesday night was another triumph, prefacing her second appearance at the Metropolitan in January. It follows many similar successes on her recently completed South American tour. The little girl from Cannes, with the voice of bird-like flutings, is bewitched. On the foot of her bed is an old poster, picturing the Metropolitan house, to remind her when she wakes up that she hasn't been dreaming. Her suite is full of strange pets. She bubbles with vivacious energy—sculpture, painting, riding, swimming, tennis—and has none of the airs of the diva. She is 26, dark-haired and willowy and weighs 106 pounds. She is avid for life and eagerly curious about everybody and everything.

HOLD TRYOUTS FOR DECLAMATORY MEET

Choose Girls This Week Who Will Take Part in Dame Contest

The first step in annual declamatory work at Appleton high school began this week with a try-out meeting for the Dame contest open to girls and the first contest of the season.

According to Miss Ruth McKennan, speech teacher in charge of the contest, 20 girls have entered the Dame contest. This group has been organized, and a study has been made of the rules and regulations of the contest. Final tryouts will be held Monday, Nov. 9, at which meeting each contestant will read a dialogue of character reading not to exceed five minutes. Miss brought no charges of apostasy against her. Her life has been a triumph of innate honesty, enabling her to reverse herself when she felt like it. Not even the fact that her father was a defeated oil kinglet brought a suspicion that her opinions of Standard Oil were inspired by family misfortunes.

She landed in Paris with $150 and wrote articles for American magazines for three years. S. S. McClure, bustling and wild-haired in those days, climbed up to her garret and brought her back home, as assistant gad-fly to Lincoln Steffens. She is the author of 16 books and innumerable magazine articles. As in economics, she had reversed herself on prohibition—first supporting and now assailing.

McKannan will select the five participants from this group.

This is the first of a series of three declamatory contests. The winner receives a silver trophy presented by George Dame, a member of the class of 1916. The Bolton-Roth extemporaneous contest is open to both boys and girls, sponsored by the Classes of 1930 and 31. The third contest is the William Helms Oratorical contest sponsored by the class of 1916 in honor of William Helms, outstanding high school student who was killed in the World war. Each of the winners of these three contests represent Appleton high school in a valley contest. Winners of last year's contests include Miss Dorothy Jane Segal, Dame declamatory; Simon Sigman, William Helms contest; Vernon Beckman, the Bolton-Roth Extemporaneous contest.

A story about coffee

that should be read by every one who loves that delicious, fragrant beverage

WHAT would we do without coffee?

Probably everybody has asked or thought this question on occasions when a cup of coffee has been yearned for and then drunk with keen relish.

There's something about coffee that satisfies in a way no other beverage does. Meal after meal—day after day—we welcome its fragrance and clear, dark brown, liquid goodness. It is one of the very few beverages that never tire the taste.

Yet, do you realize that in spite of our synthetic and chemical achievements, no one has discovered a formula for imitating exactly the rare flavor that Nature has given coffee?

Scientists will tell you that coffee has the most elusive flavor and aroma of any food product we have. The history of chemistry will tell you that since the discovery of coffee, centuries ago, no one has ever been able to successfully analyze all of its twenty-two different oils. The flavor of coffee is one of Nature's most jealously guarded secrets.

Strange as it may seem, the priceless flavor of coffee, as we enjoy it, does not come from one variety of coffee alone. There must be a blend. In composing this blend, coffees from different parts of the world are selected, graded and then mixed together in proper proportions to create a distinctively individual flavor.

Blend, alone, is not sufficient for fine flavor

But even perfectly blended coffee is far from being ready for the cup. Maximum flavor and aroma must be developed by a roasting process in order that the coffee be tasteful.

This is one of the most important processes in the production of coffee. Any one can buy green coffee and mix it; they can even roast the coffee over their home fire, but it is virtually impossible for them to maintain the even roast necessary for uniform flavor.

Coffee was first roasted in pans as you would do it in your oven. Then a large drum was invented in which several hundred pounds could be roasted at a time.

While this method was quite satisfactory, it fell short of developing the perfect flavor of the blend. There was no way to insure uniformity in the roast—naturally no way to insure uniformity in the flavor.

Here's the reason. In roasting coffee by the ordinary bulk method, an operator handles two or three hundred pounds at a time and depends upon his eye to judge the right color. But, careful as he may be, a change of light may deceive him and he will either check the roast too soon, or let it continue too long. The result is that the different batches will often vary in color and flavor.

Hills Bros., whose business dates back to 1878, realized this. For years they worked to perfect a method of roasting their rare blend of coffee which would guarantee that every ounce was roasted to the same degree. And eventually they discovered and patented "Controlled Roasting"—the most revolutionary process ever developed in the production of coffee.

What "Controlled Roasting" is and does

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow, a little at a time, so the uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by "Controlled Roasting"—the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously... a little at a time. The blended green coffee is introduced into the roasters in automatically measured lots of about three pounds, and passes through in a steady flow, roasting a little at a time. Never does the quantity of coffee vary. The speed of the flow and the degree of heat remain the same, with the result that Hills Bros. Coffee is absolutely uniform.

What's more, during the roasting process the coffee is subjected to a circulation of clean, fresh air which removes all trace of smoke and fumes that would affect the flavor. The heat and volume of air are automatically controlled so that any variation in the degree to which the coffee is roasted is absolutely prevented.

From the viewpoint of the housewife, Hills Bros. Coffee is roasted as she prepares her choicest foods. She knows that she can make a better dish by cooking in small quantities or combining the ingredients a little at a time. What woman will pour all the salad-oil at once into her mayonnaise mixture and expect to beat it to a smooth, thick consistency?

Granulation important in coffee making

The granulation of Hills Bros. Coffee is the result of scientific tests to determine the degree of fineness that will give the most satisfactory results. Coffee is often pulverized for the sole purpose of producing a larger quantity of beverage than ordinarily, but experience has proved that beverage made from pulverized coffee is lacking in flavor. In a high-grade coffee, flavor is the requisite element. Coffee value and satisfaction are established by a unique combination of delicious aroma and satisfying strength.

Hills Bros. Coffee will make as many, and usually a greater number of cups of full-flavored and full-strength beverage than any other coffee. The granulation of Hills Bros. Coffee will give perfect results when it is properly made by any approved method.

Fresh coffee in every can

The happy results secured by "Controlled Roasting" and other exact methods of manufacture could not last, however, if Hills Bros. packed coffee the ordinary way. For roasted coffee—ground or unground—loses its goodness if exposed to the air. Yes, air destroys the freshness and flavor of coffee quickly. Even the so-called "air-tight can" does not prevent deterioration.

Knowing this, Hills Bros. originated the vacuum process of packing coffee in July, 1900. The vacuum process is the ultimate in coffee protection. All the air is removed from the can—and kept out. No other method can give a greater degree of protection. There is no magic about a vacuum can—it will not make poor coffee good, but it will keep good coffee fresh.

After vacuum packing, to make certain that every can is flawlessly sealed, each one is tested by an ingenious machine, invented and used exclusively by Hills Bros. This "automatic inspector" detects the tiniest air hole and discards a faulty can at once. This protection against air means that Hills Bros. Coffee is always fresh, no matter when or where you buy it. Remember this!

A flavor no other coffee has

When you buy Hills Bros. Coffee you are buying coffee with a flavor no other coffee has. Hills Bros. Coffee is the cream of the world's coffee crops, blended by experts; roasted by the exclusive, continuous process—"Controlled Roasting"—a process no other coffee roaster can use (it's patented); and brought to you roaster-fresh in the original vacuum pack.

As a lover of fine coffee, you should try Hills Bros. Coffee at once. As you turn the key that opens the vacuum packed can, an entrancing aroma will captivate your sense of smell. Then, when you have made a cup, a thrill will come to your taste that defies description. That flavor is one you will want again and again. And you can always count on getting it!

Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab trademark on the can. Hills Bros. Coffee, Inc., 1130 Merchandise Mart, Chicago, Illinois.

THOMAS J. WEBB COFFEE

IS CREAM-TESTED
FOR CUP-FLAVOR

YOU don't judge coffee goodness in the can. Nor in black coffee. The smooth, rich flavor you seek comes from coffee the way you drink it . . . with cream added!

It takes the complete blending of coffee and cream to bring you the cup of mellow, satisfying goodness.

All coffees blend with cream. Yet no two to the same degree. Some combine more smoothly, more completely than others.

Where coffee contains too little oil, the blending is slow, uneven. Smoothness and mellowness are lacking. Only a coffee prepared and tested for combining with cream can give you the full cup-goodness.

Thomas J. Webb Coffee is blended and roasted for cup-flavor. Laboratory tests* prove that every pound contains just the right amount of oil for perfect cream-and-coffee goodness. Then, it is cream tested. Skilled experts, around a proving table, test Thomas J. Webb Coffee every morning for smoothness . . . for richness . . . for satisfying flavor . . . with cream.

SOLICIT FUNDS FOR CONFERENCE OF SOCIAL WORK

Appleton Citizens Lend Aid to Project of State Organization

Six Appleton persons, Mrs. L. C. Steeper, Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Lawrence college, Professor L. A. Boettger, L. Hugo Keller and Erik Madsen, are working to secure funds for the Wisconsin conference of Social work. Letters are being sent to Appleton citizens asking them to support the conference, which is now trying to secure a human and efficient public relief law for Wisconsin.

Appleton members of a committee of 160 persons carrying on an intensive state-wide campaign in behalf of crime and criminal justice are Marshall Graff, Chief George T. Prim, Miss Blanche Murphy, Judge E. V. Werner, and W. H. Hatton of New London. Dr. Wriston is a member of the board of directors of the conference.

The conference is an organization of public spirited citizens who contribute their time and funds for the purpose of working out ways and means of solving the problem of delinquency, crime, dependence, disease, feeble-mindedness, including all forms of social inadequacy. The work of the conference includes the Children's code; the winning of measures that have extended probation to minors and adults; the organization of county children's boards; and studies by citizens of conditions that exist in their communities.

Full Time Secretary
The conference employs a full time executive secretary, and a staff member on social legislation and follow-up work, which together with the stenographic aid constitutes the entire paid personnel of the organization. It conducts state and regional conferences on various subjects in all parts of the state; assists communities by supplying information on social problems and allied subjects, and by sending out speakers when groups ask for them; and informs people in the state of the facts regarding the extent and cost, as well as the causes of and suggested ways for the prevention of socially incapable.

The conference seeks to work through the public state departments, as well as through major state organizations, such as the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary, and the State Federation of Women's clubs. By getting groups to understand and support projects which make for a more efficient handling of both local and state social problems, the conference fulfills a need which all such groups recognize is required for technical assistance in the involved and difficult problems that every community and every state faces.

The policies of the conference are directed by a board of directors composed of persons from all parts of Wisconsin, among whom are Dr. Wriston, Mrs. Florence G. Buckstaff of Oshkosh, Judge A. H. Reid of Wausau, Fred M. Wilcox, chairman of the state industrial commission, Justice Martin E. Rosenberry of Madison, Mrs. Joshua Hodgins of Marinette, the Rev. M. F. McEvoy of Milwaukee, Mrs. C. B. Clark of Neenah, H. H. Fuller of Ashland, Alvin Reis of Madison, W. H. Woodard of Watertown, and Judge R. R. Luce of Elkhorn.

The work of the conference is non-political, non-sectarian in its character and is aimed toward securing the best possible conditions in the social and civic life of the state.

Tribal Songs Will Live After Indians Are Gone

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington—Though the pagan songs to the ancient gods of the Winnebago Indians are gradually giving way to modern songs, which in many instances are based on Bible themes, these old tribal songs will not die with the aging Indian patri-archs who sing them.

Miss Frances Denmore, Smithsonian Institution ethnologist, has taken steps to insure the preservation of the old folk songs. She recently returned from a trip to Wisconsin, where she made phonograph records of the bundle songs and songs used in the treatment of the sick, so that an authentic record of this vanishing phase of American culture will be saved, when the sons of the old Indians are singing new songs in place of the songs of their fathers.

She also has an interesting collection of the songs of the peyote cult, which is said by the Winnebago to be attracting many converts among their tribes in Wisconsin and Nebraska.

Named From Drug
This peyote cult derives its name from the use of a curious drug which is considered by the worshippers to clear the mind of evil and promote kindliness.

To all outward appearances, the peyote seems to have the reforming effect which the Indians attribute to it. The peyote festivals seem to have an effect similar to revival services in a small community, the converts being aroused to renewed efforts to live in accordance with the technical teaching of their religion—which is, incidentally, very similar to the Christian code.

Indeed, Miss Denmore regards the peyote cult as a transitional phase, between the old Indian culture and beliefs and European culture and the Christian religion. Their ceremonies combine the Christian symbolism and ideas taught by the Protestant missionaries with remnants of aboriginal Indian ceremonial.

Widely varying opinions concerning the physiological effect of the peyote are prevalent, some authorities claiming that the ceremonial drug is habit forming and harmful, and others that it is innocuous. Miss Denmore herself has no theories on the subject, not having studied it as a physician, but she did say that members of the peyote cult whom she knew had splendid characters and that she regarded them highly.

Praises Indians
She paid a particular tribute to several Winnebago Indians who aided her with her investigations, telling her the beliefs of the peyotes and singing their songs for recording. Among these are William Thunder, who lives near Holman, Wis., and James Yellowbank of the Black River Falls vicinity.

William Thunder is a member of the John Rave branch of the peyote cult, while Yellowbank is a member of a slightly different cult which follows the teachings of Jessie Clay.

Though divided into these two branches, members of the peyote cult are friendly among themselves and apparently do not attempt to proselyte members to their particular brand of peyote ceremonial.

John Smoke and Frisk Cloud of the Tomah vicinity were two other Winnebago whom Miss Denmore thanked for their help to her in studying the Wisconsin Indians.

SEN. MOSES SEES BENEFIT TO U. S. IN NEW HOUSE STATUS

Worcester, Mass. —(AP)—U. S. Senator George H. Moses, Republican New Hampshire, believes that Democratic control of the national house "will be a good thing for the country because we are passing too many laws."

New Hampshire's Senior U. S. senator said in an interview Wednesday that he believed the Democratic control would be good despite the fact it would probably mean "complete stagnation" for the next two years. He gave the interview after an address before the Worcester Economic club. "I am apprehensive regarding the election next year," he added.

CONGRESS VANGUARD STARTS DRIFTING INTO U. S. CAPITAL

Don't Expect Action, However, Until Norris of Nebraska Arrives

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington — Members of congress are drifting in here in preparation for the big doings which begin in December. Fifteen or 20 senators are reported in town at this writing and probably there are 25 or 30 representatives. Most of them are here for work, but few forget that this is the best season to trumpet their views for the country. Later with everyone here, competition will be keen.

The supreme court, located in the capitol's center, has been having its first fall session. Tom Harkin of Alabama also has been on view in connection with the contest for his old seat against Senator Bankhead. Miscellaneous busts, statues and famous old paintings are being scrubbed or dusted off.

Jim Preston is roosting again at his perch in the senate press gallery. He moved there back in 1897 and this will be the 17th congress he has spent there.

Telegraph operators have returned to the gallery, for already they are assured of enough news files from the capitol to make their presence worth while.

The house press gallery, which doesn't compare with the senate's in prestige, must be content with a good scrubbing and a repainting.

But down on the house floor you find that an almost gaudy flooring of greenish-blue rubber tiling has been laid over the slightly raised portion of the floor. The seats are spruced. This replaces the old carpet. It is a horrid word, but one learns that some members were often horrid.

Repair Chambers

The senate chamber looks the same, but during the summer the whole pine floor was taken up and every electric wire beneath carefully tubed to end the fire hazard. And there now a fire pump in the capitol which will produce 1000 gallons of water a minute.

The pre-session season really opened when Senator Borah of Idaho returned and resumed his daily 3 o'clock press conferences. Twenty or 30 correspondents gather in Borah's office daily and, with utmost frankness, he hashes over with them developments current. Usually Borah doesn't talk for publication, but he always has interesting ideas and opinions—and, as often as not, interesting information. The correspondents, sitting in chairs or on the floor, also have ideas and information. They argue things out informally and the keynote of discussion is often "What the hell?" Borah is perhaps the biggest man here who can be depended upon to hand out no selfish propaganda and no baloney.

Boon to Reporters

The conferences provide a boon for the reporters, who can usually get an idea for a story by talking up and one of Borah's views that a wider circulation for his views than any American outside the White House. Sometimes, of course, the views are not published, as his.

After the Borah conference some correspondent always says, "Well, let's go see—". And off goes a group. Such a group, large or small, is always bargaining about the senate office building at this season. Lately its meat has been LaFollette of Wisconsin, or a Democratic caucus of Michigan, New of North Dakota, Wicks of Montana and McNary of Oregon. If you ask the United States ranks 25th among nations of the world in maternity case mortality.

$30,000 GOAL IN CAMPAIGN TO HELP CITY POOR

Organize Permanent Organization to Carry on Relief Work

In the city organization and will correlate public and private charities and activities including the nurse, poor commissioner, health officer and deputy health officer. A complete record of each case receiving help will be maintained to prevent duplication. Judge Heinemann said.

Each agency joining the council will maintain its independence, conducting its relief work through its own workers. The kind of aid which can be given by an agency will be determined by the welfare council, but the proposed plan calls for only furnishing absolute necessities. Any aid to be given in addition to necessities must be furnished by the co-operating agencies from their private funds.

Requests for aid are to be made in triplicate. Workers will be furnished with request forms. One copy is kept by the agency giving the relief, one goes to the merchant and the third is filed with the secretary in the city hall. This plan, it is believed, will prevent duplication because the secretary will have on file a complete list of families receiving aid. Funds raised by individual organizations through individual efforts will be kept by those organizations for their own special work. The funds to be spent for general relief will be those raised by the Citizens committee.

Maintain Storehouse
The general council also will maintain a community storehouse where donations of clothing, furniture and other articles can be received and kept for distribution. The present plan calls for a paid worker to be in charge of this storehouse. Distribution of the goods from this warehouse will be made on request and records will be maintained by the secretary. Mayor John W. Goodland, who attended the meeting last night, promised that a city truck would be made available for the collection of donated articles. A committee composed of Dr. D. S. Runnels, Mrs. Gustave Keller, Sr., and Mrs. Alice Stillman was appointed to investigate several proposed locations for the store.

gave several proposed locations for the store.

Mrs. Keller was elected vice chairman of the council and as such she will preside at all council meetings. Mrs. George H. Schmidt was elected recording secretary. Mrs. Keller plans to call the first meeting of the city council within a few days when the organization will be perfected.

Before the organization was voted last night Judge Heinemann pointed out that considerable interest was being shown in the relief efforts and that he expected a drive for funds would certainly go over the top. He said that many people who have jobs were more than willing to share their good fortune with unfortunates who need aid. The judge also pointed out that the question of rehabilitation was not involved in the program this year but that if welfare cases are brought to his attention he had social worker facilities to work on such cases. He said if experience proved the need for a social worker he would be one of the first to demand that the city could engage one. He said the place for such a worker, if one is required, is on the city staff.

E. F. McGillan, chairman of the city council poor relief committee, said the city is facing a serious situation this winter and he urged close cooperation of all the charity groups.

Mr. McGillan said that he thought he could speak for the city council and promise that the city would engage the secretary to correlate efforts of the various workers.

RESIDENCES ARE UNDERMINED BY ANT-LIKE PESTS

Termites Causes Thousands of Dollars Damage Every Year

Washington—American home owners pay an annual tribute of thousands of dollars to a tiny insect, the termite.

The small ant-like pest in numerous homes, literally devours wooden parts of houses, cotton fabric and books and is a difficult menace to cope with.

Improperly constructed homes are the cause of the spread of this insect over the country, according to Dr. Thomas E. Snyder, senior entomologist of the U. S. Bureau of Entomology, who has made a life-long study of this pest.

The insects reach the upper portions of a home through wood that is in contact with the soil. They work inside the wood and weaken its structural strength by eating tiny passages through it. No indication is seen of their presence until some part of the house gives way.

Build Earthen “Ramps”

They also are able to reach wooden surfaces built above the ground by building earthen tubes on masonry walls. Through these tubes they crawl to the wood and eat their way into it.

There are many species of the termite, but there are only a few in the United States. In tropical countries there are as many as 30 varieties.

The workers are continually underground or in the dark and only the spring brood—ant-like insects with wings—see daylight for any length of time.

“The species of termite prevalent in this country is subterranean and cannot carry out its devastation unless in constant reach of the earth's moisture,” Dr. Snyder explains.

In the United States they are destructive wherever you find them. In the southeast, in central, western, southwestern and Pacific coast states their damage is to be found. They are much more troublesome in the warmer parts of the country.

Live Like Ants

“Termites are not true ants as many people believe. They do, however, resemble ants and live in large colonies made up of many different forms.

“Their damage is rarely seen until it has become serious because the termite never works in the open. As a result the foundation timbers, joists, beams or other parts of a building may be well eaten away, or clothing destroyed, before the termite attack is noticed.”

If a building has been built with its wood portions in contact with the ground, if it is impractical to raise the building and place concrete foundation underneath it, the best way to combat the termite is to treat the wood with a termite-resistant preservative, such as creosote or zinc chloride, Dr. Snyder advises.

Another way to prevent their spread is to use metal shields around the foundation, including all pillars, supports and piping. These should be arranged on both inside and outside surfaces of the members. The shields should have their projecting edges bent downward to an angle of about 45 degrees and should be made of non-corrosive substance.

Treat All Wood

Floor joists imbedded in masonry or concrete, or laid in masonry in contact with the earth, should be impregnated with a chemical preservative,” Dr. Snyder states. “The ends of beams or girders entering masonry or concrete should also be chemically treated.

Walls and roof timbers, unless of naturally durable wood, should be both insect attack and decay, should be protected on the weather side with waterproof building paper which is generally considered good building practice to prevent the collection of moisture.

If a home owner notices any of the earthen tubes of a termite colony going up the side of his house — they often rise as high as the second floor and attic in search of edible wood—he should break these tubes down and thus destroy the insect's “ladder.”

APPLETON SCHOOLS OBSERVE NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL WEEK

Event Sponsored by American Legion and American Education Group

National Education week, sponsored jointly by the American Education association and the American Legion throughout the country every year, will be observed in all public schools beginning next Monday, culminating in Armistice day programs at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, Nov. 11.

General programs will be held in the schools during the week on various daily programs scheduled on the theme of what the Schools are Helping America to Achieve. Monday will be a study of Economic Progress; Tuesday, Child Health and Protection; Wednesday, Community Service as well as Citizenship and Loyalty to Law; Thursday, Improvement of Rural Living; Friday, Achievements Made Through a Higher Level of Intelligence; Saturday, a study of the Enrichment of Life; Sunday, Ideals of Character and Home Life.

"Go to School" nights will be held in several schools, giving parents the opportunity to visit the classrooms and understand the work of their children. Special sets of posters will be displayed during the week in the schools, depicting the achievement of national education. Faculty meetings next week will stress the significance of National Education week in their programs.

At Appleton high school, the Talisman, student newspaper, will publish editorials and several special feature articles as a part of the observance program at the school.

American Legion speakers on Armistice day will appear in programs at the high school and the three junior high schools. All schools will observe the silence period during the morning. L. Hugo Keller, former state president of the legion, will address the high school students; Frank Wheeler, local lawyer, will speak at McKinley Junior high school; the Rev. Lyle D. Utts, of All Saints Episcopal church, will speak at Roosevelt Junior high school and the Rev. J. H. Noble, president of the local legion, will address Wilson Junior high school students. Grade schools will observe Armistice day in classroom exercises.

STOP HOME SALES OF WINE CONCENTRATES

Washington (AP)—Home distribution of its wine concentrates will be discontinued by Fruit Industries, Ltd.

Donald Conn, managing director, said Thursday that in the future concentrates will be sold only in stores. Previously agents had sold the products directly to the homes and had given aid in bottling the grape juice fermented into wine.

This action was taken, Conn said, partly as a result of the recent Kansas City court decision in the United Fruit Products company case and partly to avert further criticism of the farm board which has loaned Fruit Industries $3,500,000.

COUPLE MUST PAX TAX ON $23,265 IN BONUSES

Madison (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. George H. Harris, managers and part owners of the Advance Clock company of Milwaukee must pay income taxes on $23,265.99 in bonuses credited to them by the company in 1928, the state tax commission ruled today. The commission affirmed the Milwaukee tax assessor and board of review.

The taxpayers contended that when the bonuses were credited to them the company was unable to pay them in cash and under the commission rules they were required to pay taxes only on cash payments. Testimony showed that the bonus payments were invested in the business.

MICHIGAN MAN FREED IN BOOTLEG SLAYING

Crystal Falls, Mich. (AP)—A circuit court jury deliberated but three hours Wednesday to acquit two Hendrickson, 35, Stambauch township, of complicity in the slaying of Sam Hammer, 54, Iron River bootlegger.

Hammer was "eaten and knifed" to death Aug. 2, 1929, by Smith, 18, Caspar, and Philip Ruckel, 20, Iron River, are now serving life sentences in the prison at Marquette for the crime. They admitted killing Hammer while attempting to steal a case of beer.

Hendrickson denied connection with the killing although he admitted riding to the scene with Ruckel and Smith. The two testified in his favor at the trial.

WISCONSIN LEADS IN NUMBER OF MILK COWS

Madison (AP)—Wisconsin has more milk cows than any other state and therefore its citizens should make it the "greatest milk-drinking state," the state board of health says.

Under the standard of a pint of milk for each child each day established by the U. S. War Department as the minimum for the board of health, Wisconsin is falling far below this mark. The daily per capita consumption of milk in Milwaukee last year was 17 of a pint, in New York 25 of a pint and in Madison 22 of a pint, the board said.

Although an accurate figure as to the amount of milk consumed in the state is unavailable the board holds that Wisconsin is falling far below her pint quota.

MAKE EXHIBIT OF 80 MANUSCRIPTS

Display Is Shown Here Through Courtesy of American Art Federation

There is now on display on the second floor of the Lawrence college library, an exhibition of 80 illuminated manuscripts, the greater part of which are originals. The display is being circulated by the American Federation of Art.

The manuscripts are all old, most of them dating from 1000 A. D. to 1500 A. D. The remarkable feature about them all is that the ink and colored paints with which they were made have not faded in the least. All the originals are of sheepskin.

Almost all of the manuscripts are colored beautifully, and the fineness of the work is astonishing. Especially beautiful and delicately worked out is a page from the Koran, made in Persia in the seventeenth century. Some of the other interesting originals are various pages of the Bible, some dating from 1270 A. D. There is a beautiful manuscript of the "Catechism Liturgicus," made in France in 1660 A. D. A page from the Commentaries of Pope Gregory, made in Germany in 1020 is also a very interesting part of the exhibit. There are peculiar looking, but delicately colored choir leaves, all from this period, and several original pages of the "Book of Hours." Examples of Persian poetry of the early seventeenth century are especially beautiful.

The display can be seen at any time of the day by going to the second floor of the library.

$2,000 MADE AVAILABLE FOR LOANS TO STUDENTS

The Lawrence college student senate recently completed a plan whereby a loan fund of $2,000 will be available to juniors and seniors in the near future. Michael Gochmayer, Appleton chairman of the committee which drew up the plan, stated that the senate plans to have at least $500 at the end of the current school year, $500 of which already has been secured. This sum is to be set aside as a loan fund for immediate use by juniors and seniors, the money being loaned at 5 per cent interest, the loan being payable one year after graduation.

However, when the total sum of $2,000 has been reached, the money will be invested, and the interest will be used as outright scholarships, and not loans. The scholarships are to be awarded by a committee composed of the president and assistant dean of the college, and the president and vice president of the Student Senate.

DISPLAY PORTRAIT OF GEORGE A. WHITING

A large portrait of the late George A. Whiting of Neenah, completed after his death by Baroness Violet Wenner, famous English artist, is now on display in the Lawrence college library.

George Whiting will always be remembered by Lawrence students as one of the greatest benefactors of the college. The college athletic field is named after him, and his numerous gifts to the school aided the institution greatly.

The portrait will only be on display a short time.

EXPRESS NEED FOR CHANGE IN U. S. TAX LAWS

Falling Returns Help Play Havoc With Treasury Finances

BY CHARLES F. SPEARE
Copyright 1931, By Cons. Press

Wall Street, New York (CPA)—With the decreasing government receipts this fiscal year, it is daily becoming more apparent that some radical changes in the income tax laws must be made at the next session of congress in order to cover that gap "between the pants and the vest" by which "Uncle Joe Cannon once characterized the treasury deficit.

The combination of falling income tax returns and those from tariffs and internal revenue has played havoc with treasury finances at a time when heavy new borrowings have been necessary in order to meet additional payments to war veterans and when foreign debtors have suspended their annual installments under the "debt holiday" privilege of last June. It is now estimated that the government deficit for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932 will be in excess of $2,000,000,000. This is twice as much as the entire pre-war government debt. It is the nightmare of treasury officials. Around it is likely to develop one of the bitterest controversies in congress this winter.

Wall Street Expectant
Anticipation of higher income taxes concerns Wall Street immensely. Obviously, it places a higher premium on all tax-exempt issues, including those of the government and other political divisions. It also puts stocks in a better position, where they are on a dividend paying basis, than bonds of the taxable variety. It is yet too early to discover signs of a shifting from taxable to non-taxable issues. This program is in the minds of investors who give close attention to all of the advantages that exist in different classes of securities. While non-taxable bonds have of late been under extreme pressure, this is due to conditions unrelated to their tax status.

Just what form an increase in taxes would take has not yet been determined. It is, however, being discussed in Washington and considered in New York by those groups most closely identified with underwriting and distributing investment issues. It is safe to say, there will be an effort made to raise the tax schedules in the higher income brackets. The present maximum surtax is 20 per cent. The proposal is being made that this be advanced to 35 per cent.

Latest Figures in 1928
The latest detailed figures of income tax payments issued by the bureau of internal revenue are those for 1928. In that year, of the 4,070,831 returns submitted by individuals, approximately 3,000,000, or 75 per cent, were in the class of those with incomes from below $1,000 to under $5,000. It is these groups that have paid, and are now paying, the smallest percentages of income tax. In the group between $5,000 and up to $25,000 is represented 22 per cent of the total of those making returns. Another 23 per cent includes those with incomes from $25,000 up to $100,000. The small remainder embraces those fortunate individuals who have incomes from $100,000 to $1,000,000 and over.

Numerically, therefore, those within the surtax bracket are small in comparison with those against whom are assessed the minimum income tax charges. In adjusting her budget so that there would be a balance next year instead of a large deficit, Great Britain in September placed a heavy penalty not only on large but on small incomes. Representatives in congress will undoubtedly protest vigorously against any increase in the income tax on small salaried men and women.

JURY DEADLOCKED IN POISON MURDER CASE

Lebanon, Ind.—(AP)—Deadlocked after 48 hours deliberation, the jury in the Carrie Simmons poison murder trial apparently was no nearer a verdict at noon today than it was when it received the case late last Tuesday.

Judge Johnson W. Hornaday gave up hope of a verdict being reached. It was decided to discharge the jury this evening. No indication of how the jury stood was available.

Mrs. Simmons is accused of placing poison-filled capsules in sandwiches which she brought to a family reunion here last June. Mrs. Simmons' daughters, Alice Jean, 17, and Virginia, 14, were both fatally stricken after eating the sandwiches.

EXPLAINS DELAY ON WATERWAY PROJECT

Washington (AP)—Negotiation of a treaty with Canada for a St. Lawrence river seaway was said Thursday by Secretary Stimson to have been delayed through failure of the Canadian minister thus far to present a program setting forth his country's desires.

The secretary said the negotiations have not been abandoned despite the delay.

The American government is ready to go ahead with them at any time, Stimson added.

Several years ago the Canadian and American governments simultaneously announced that negotiations looking to a treaty, under which the navigation channel from the Atlantic to the Great Lakes would be built, would be begun immediately.

OVERHEAD AT DEPERE

"Work hard, take care of yourself and don't drink the present-day whiskey," advises J. J. McCaffery, who at the age of 190 works every day in his blacksmith shop in the tiny village of Beatrice, Ind. McCaffery began his career at 14 shoeing oxen. He commanded 350 Union Army scouts and raiders in the Civil War, resuming blacksmithing when the conflict ended.

COMPLETE PROGRAM FOR CELEBRATION ON ARMISTICE DAY

Rev. Gustave Stearns, Milwaukee, Will Be Principal Speaker

Appleton world war veterans, be they veterans of the allied armies or of the Central power armies, will meet again the night of Nov. 11 at Rainbow gardens, eat together, honor the dead, and celebrate, according to plans of Oney Johnston post of the American legion.

Following dinner, the entertainment program will open with talks by Mrs. H. W. Miller, auxiliary president, and Herbert H. Holbe, commander of Oney Johnston post. The principal address of the evening will follow. It will be a talk on "World War Memories" by Rev. Gustave Stearns, Milwaukee, war time chaplain of the 127th Infantry, which was part of the 32nd or Red Arrow division. Many Appleton veterans were acquainted with the chaplain while serving in the regiment.

A one-act play "In the Trenches" will follow, and then the veterans will pay tribute to soldier and sailor or dead. Dancing will follow for the remainder of the evening.

An invitation to attend has been extended to all veterans of Central powers in the war, to members of the courts, board and city council, and representatives of patriotic organizations and Co. D, 127th Infantry, Wisconsin National Guard.

25 NEW MATTRESSES
The last order of 25 mattresses has been received by the Y. M. C. A. and placed on dormitory beds, according to George F. Werner, general secretary. The mattresses were ordered by the house committee of the association, which now is considering a larger contract for the seating plant at the residence. The committee will meet sometime next week.

Directors of the association also will meet next week. The annual member party of the association also is scheduled for next week.

KAW GRIDDERS MEET OCONTO ON SATURDAY

Game Tomorrow Afternoon at Kaukauna Designated as Homecoming

Kaukauna—Coach Paul E. Little's Kaukauna high school football team will resume its old football rivalry with Oconto high school here Saturday afternoon. Kaukauna high will celebrate its first homecoming in several years. Members of the present football team were taught a fine lesson in football two years ago at Oconto, when they were defeated 45 to 6. The memory of that battle still lingers, and the team will take the field Saturday intent on avenging the defeat. Last year the schools did not meet.

Oconto has had a fair season this year and should give the Orange and Blacks a hard battle. Schwendeman will be out of the game because of a bad ankle. Schuster and Ludke will share the quarterback position throughout the fracas. Both have given some excellent performances on the local field.

When Oconto comes here Saturday it is probable that all of the regular players will be along. Some trouble was experienced at the school this season and several of the best players were kept out of most of the games. Both of the Oconto twins will be in the lineup. These two twins were instrumental in the whitewashing of the Kaukauna gridders two years ago. Little is known of what type of attack will be used, as Oconto has played most of its games at home this season, making it impossible for Kaukauna fans to watch them.

Because of the Appleton game on Armistice Day Coach Little will save his regulars as much as possible. The probable starting lineup will be Ludke, quarterback; Vandye, fullback; Kemp and Kuchelmeister, halfbacks; Weirauch, center; Block and Jansen, guards; Bodde and Jager, tackles; and Vils and Sager at ends. Changes in the lineup would be for Schuler for Ludke, Noie for Kemp, Koch for Vils, Manuel for either Weirauch or Bodde, and Nelson for Jager.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Kaukauna—Ladies Aid of Emmanuel Reformed church met Thursday afternoon at the church.

Women's Relief Corps will meet in the legion clubrooms on Oak-st Friday evening. An inspection will be conducted.

POUR LAST CONCRETE ON LAWE-ST BRIDGE

Kaukauna—Concrete for the last stretch of roadway on the new Lawe-st bridge was being poured Friday morning. A heated mixture was being used, due to the cold weather. Workmen are removing forms from the arch adjacent to the abutment on the canal bank. Work at the north end of the bridge has been completed and all of the surrounding grounds have been cleared. A small piece of concrete on the improved intersection of Oak-st and Main-ave remains to be done. Preparations for the new sidewalk in front of the municipal building also have been made.

Carmel Myers Now Knows Difference In Rings

By JESSIE HENDERSON
(Copyright 1931, by Cons. Press)
Hollywood—(CPA)—You know the intrinsic difference between a seven-carat diamond and a seven-carat chunk of glass? So does Carmel Myers, now.

For a picture role at the Universal lot, Miss Myers was given an assortment of imitation jewelry by the property department. One ring was an exact duplicate of the engagement ring which had been presented to Miss Myers by her husband, Ralph Blum. Only the prop department ring contained seven carats of glass instead of diamond. Miss Myers wore the glass ring and left the diamond ring together with the rest of her personal jewelry in the hands of her maid. In the rush of finishing the scene, returning the prop jewelry, and getting away in time for a dinner date, Miss Myers wore the fake ring home.

This discovery banished all thoughts of dinner. Telephone calls buzzed from the Myers house to the Universal lot. "Yes, the ring had been returned," the property department replied, "but Arletta Duncan had taken it to wear in a picture. And the company she was with had left for a location. There was no telephone near the location, and the company would be out of town for three days."

Carmel's husband tried to reassure her. "But Miss Duncan doesn't know it's a good ring," Miss Myers said, "she might lose it."

This sounded so reasonable that the husband got a messenger and dispatched him 50 miles up the coast. By midnight the diamond ring was back on Carmel's finger, the glass ring on Arletta's, and everybody including the prop department was exhausted.

SIX DIALECTS MAKE
GAY SPAIN A BABEL
Madrid—(AP)—Six languages are being used for official communications in Spain—Spanish, Catalan, Mallorquin, Valencian, Basque and Galician.

The mayor of Barcelona sends a telegram in Catalan to the mayor of Valencia. The latter retaliates with a reply in Valencian.

Telegraph operators are getting wild-eyed and the federal communications authorities are thinking about decreeing that inter-state messages must be in Spanish, although each province may use its own tongue within its own borders.

Idabel, Okla.—Charley Draper, on trial for a double slaying, doesn't have much hope of escaping the death penalty. He is trying to interest authorities in a plan to take up a collection among spectators at his trial to raise a burial fund.

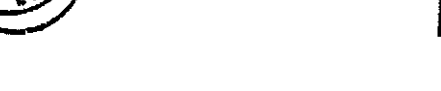

"SICK HEADACHE?"

It is not necessary to give-in to headaches. It is just a bit old-fashioned! The modern woman who feels a headache coming on at any time, takes some tablets of Bayer Aspirin and heads it off.

Keep Bayer Aspirin handy, and keep your engagements. Headaches, systemic pains, come at inconvenient times. So do colds. You can end them before they're fairly started if you'll only remember this handy, harmless form of relief. Carry it in your purse and insure your comfort while shopping; your evening's pleasure at the theatre. Those little nagging aches that bring a case of "nerves" by day are ended in a jiffy. Pains that once kept people home are forgotten half an hour after taking Bayer Aspirin! You'll find these tablets always help. If

You get real aspirin, you'll get real relief. In every package of genuine Bayer tablets are proven directions which cover headaches, colds, sore throat, toothache, neuralgia, neuritis, sciatica, rheumatism, etc.

The tablets stamped Bayer won't fail you, and can't harm you. They don't depress the heart. They don't upset the stomach. So take them whenever you need them, and take enough to end the pain.

URGE CLOSE CULLING OF POULTRY FLOCKS

Expert Points Out That Practice Will Increase
Profits

Poultrymen are more and more finding advantage in culling pullets very closely in the fall, according to Gus Sell, county agent.

Because the better the birds, the better will be the chances for profits during the laying year, J. B. Hayes of the College of Agriculture, believes that this year, especially, there is every good reason for close culling.

In telling about selecting pullets in a recent radio talk, Hayes pointed out that all pullets are not good pullets and that he knew of many instances where poultrymen have been farther ahead financially by selling the hens—a good hen being a better investment than a poor pullet.

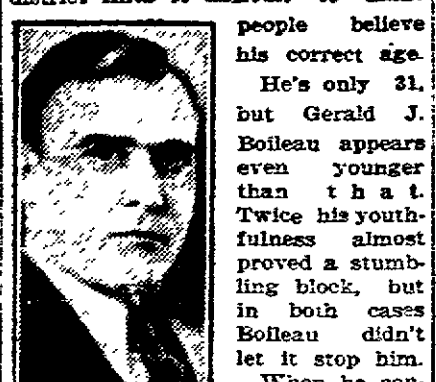

In culling the pullet flock, Hayes finds that it can usually be divided into three classes of pullets—one group that starts laying early but does not make a long year's record; a second group that makes a steady growth during the growing period and is sufficiently fat at the beginning of the laying period to provide them with the necessary reserves needed for from 12 to 14 months of steady laying, this of course, being the best class; and a third class that includes the culs. This cul class, he describes, as including those which have bodies like a V-shaped trough and look as though they were walking on stilts. Not having much vitality, it is this group that is first to develop colds and spread it through the remainder of the flock.

Because every pullet molts three times before getting adult plumage, molt cannot be considered in selecting pullets, but color of skin is important, he stated. A good pullet of any yellow skin breed should be rich yellow in both legs and beaks. Cull pullets usually lack color. To keep any pullets of doubtful quality this winter is only speculating, he indicated.

WHO'S NEW IN CONGRESS

Gerald J. Bolleau

Wausau, Wis.—(AP)—The new representative from Wisconsin's eighth district finds it difficult to make people believe his correct age.

He's only 31, but Gerald J. Bolleau appears even younger than that. Twice his youthfulness almost proved a stumbling block, but in both cases Bolleau didn't let it stop him.

When he considered making the race for congress in 1929, leaders of the LaFollette faction of the republican party sought to discourage him.

"Jerry," they said, "you look younger. You are young enough to wait."

But he didn't wait. He campaigned vigorously and won the nomination over Edward E. Browne, who had served the district 18 years. He won the election handily. Back in 1918, a few days after he had turned 18, Bolleau tried to enlist in the army. Enlistment officers doubted his age, and he had to produce church records to prove it. Bolleau is Wisconsin's youngest congressman, and one of the youngest in the 72nd congress.

He is a staunch follower of LaFollette principals, and is a member of the Wisconsin progressive faction that served notice it would not support the regular republicans in the organization of the house unless its demands for unemployment and farm relief received consideration. He believes in protective tariff and votes wet.

DRUNKENNESS CLIMBS
London—Drunkennes is on the increase in England. The Home Office has just announced that convictions for intoxication in England and Wales increased from 51,966 in 1929 to 53,080 in 1930, an increase of 2.51 per cent. This is the first year since 1924 that total figures have shown an increase.

FROM EVERYWHERE in America comes news of men returning to work. This plant has rehired a thousand men, that one is doubling its force. Orders are being placed.

We can draw but one conclusion.

America has stopped detouring through the side-streets and alleys. She heads down Prosperity Avenue, the traffic lights show green. The Appleton area — the community which did less detouring than most — will join the big parade right behind the band.

The depression should have taught America at least one lesson: in the dizzy altitudes of cheap money, wild speculation and over-production, the atmosphere is to rarefied for permanent existence. This country allowed its dreams to carry it too high. Then it fell out of bed.

For months, too many have been reaching for headache powders and feebly calling for help.

Here in the Appleton area we have a scarcity of night clubs and sky-scrapers, of town cars and valets, but it's dollars against phone slugs that our savings accounts are higher per capita, that we have fewer debts per head to pay, that our credit is still sound.

Now that the lid is lifted from the national storm cellar and frightened survivors emerge to nurse their bruises and begin to convalesce, the Appleton area, populated largely by people with better sense, can expect good health while many localities are still removing the bandages.

That is why the wise merchant is going to establish himself at the head of the class by aggressively telling his selling message through the pages of the Post-Crescent. Many men of courage have done this right along — dark clouds notwithstanding — and they form the greater part of the group who can look at their records for 1930 without wincing.

Appleton has been buying and will continue to buy in greater proportions. Its residents simply need to be sold.

The Post-Crescent continues to be their favorite piece of reading material. (They still buy well over fifteen thousand copies every day) and it's the only economical way in which to reach the area identified to the world by Appleton, Neenah, Menasha and Kaukauna.

Novelty advertising rises and wanes. Meanwhile, over sixty thousand people in our neck of the woods continue to buy, influenced regularly by the advertisements in the Post-Crescent.

Orange Scores Twice In First Half To Beat Marinette 14-7

KROHN RUNS 44 YARDS, RUPPEL DASHES SIXTY

Marinette Tallies in Third Quarter When Reserves Fail to Hold

MARINETTE—Joseph Shields' Appleton high school griders closed their 1931 Fox River Valley conference schedule at Marinette Thursday afternoon with a 14 to 7 victory. Shields' proteges ran roughshod over the Purple and White team to gather a total of fourteen first downs to Marinette's five.

Appleton scored both touchdowns in the first half. In the first quarter Mortell kicked to Walker. Walker returned about five yards to the 20 yard line. Three tries at the Appleton line failed to gain but put the Purple and White on its own 15 yard line when Hills was thrown for a five yard loss. Combs replaced Walker and punted again to the 20 yard line. The 44 yard Krohn Orange halfback skirted the right end of the Marinette line and by some neat footwork eluded the secondary tacklers to score. Mortell booted the extra point.

Entering the second quarter the Appletonians held Marinette to but one first down. After the ball had been exchanged several times Appleton started up the field to the Marinette 37 yard line but lost the ball on downs. Combs punted deep into Appleton territory but the fighting Orange again started up the field. The end around play was working often with Neller toting the pigskin.

Ruppel Scores
Plunges by Mortell and Krohn were factors in placing the ball on the Appleton 40 yard line about the middle of the first half. Ruppel threw a lateral pass to Ruppel and the Marinette team was completely baffled. Three tacklers remained between Ruppel and the goal line 60 yards away. He sidestepped two and pushed off the safety man to race the 60 yards for the second Appleton touchdown. Krohn hit the center of the Marinette line for the extra point.

Because of the cold wind blowing over the field both teams fumbled the ball often. Punts were stopped or were blown out of bounds on several instances. Mortell got off one good punt in the wind for 69 yards. Other punts averaged about 35 yards. Combs, who did the punting for the northers also had trouble.

Marinette's lone marker came in the third quarter when Coach Shields sent in a number of substitutes. Combs and Danner, the Marinette backs, began to seep through the Appleton line for gains of seven and eight yards. Three times the line held to prevent the northers from scoring. The fourth attempt was made after Appleton had received a penalty of 15 yards for pushing. Danner and Combs carried the oval to the Appleton 15 yard marker for a first down. Two tries put the ball on Appleton's two yard line. Wells gained a yard through the center and Combs went off tackle and the ball rested on the goal line. The referee ruled it a touchdown. Combs booted the point.

The work of Neller in the line was outstanding. Several times the Appleton left end broke through the Marinette line to smear Marinette backs for losses.

The lineup:
Appleton: Neller, LE; Pocquette, WE; Weber, LT; Olson, Klein, LG; Wuhman, Dean, C; Stuntz, Tillman, RG; Virch, Kreick, RT; Mc Urdy, Beck, RE; Constine, Verrier, QB; Wells, Krohn, LHB; Hills, Mortell, FB; Danner, Ruppel, RGE.

Substitutions: Appleton—Burk for Weber, Reitzner for Klein, Weber for Reitzner, Bowers for Dean, Merifield for Tillman, Tillman for Merifield, Burton for Beck, Beck for Burton, Dietrich for Krohn, Salm for Dietrich, Krohn for Salm, Frank for Mortell and Mortell for Frank.

Wuhman for Brown, and Brown for Wuhman. Story for Virch. Mamsted for Wells, Combs for Walker, Walker for Mamsted, and Wells for Walker.
Referee—Iverson. Sheboygan; umpire—Stoll. Sheboygan; head linesman—Bray, Marinette.

CONVENTION TO FIGHT OUT TENNIS RANKINGS

New York—(P)—National tennis rankings, heretofore in effect, decided entirely by a committee, will be fought out next year on the United States Lawn Tennis association's convention floor.

Under a rule adopted at the last convention, the U. S. L. T. Approval or disapproval of the selections will be made by the convention delegates who will have had 30 days or more to consider the rankings as recommended.

Chaff 'n Chatter

By Gordon R. McIntyre

Defeat for Irish?

PREDICTING the defeat for Notre Dame hasn't been a very profitable business during the last few years. But it is likely to pick up one of these fine days.

Rating the South Benders off their performance against Carnegie Tech, a game which Notre Dame won 19 to 0, there is TROUBLE AHEAD AND PLENTY OF IT in the games with Army and Southern California.

The splendid timing shown by the Irish last year was off. Schwartz threw several forward passes into the empty air. Once on fourth down Schwartz tossed a short one over the line into the end zone and there was nobody within 10 feet of the ball. The offense often failed to click. The great blocking of 1929 was not there.

When Schwartz ran 58 yards for that first touchdown against Tech, he had to shake off, twist away from or stiff-arm six tacklers who would have stopped him if he had not been the marvelous broken field runner that he is. The blockers didn't get their uniforms very dirty on that one. Most of them were looking out of the window.

Cutie Can Talk
Carnegie, "Fat," "Cutie," Spears, coach of the University of Oregon team that snapped out of the doldrums with a tremendous upsurge by beating New York U recently, must have told his young men from Oregon plenty to bring them to the state of mind they had to have to win that game. But Cutie is the lad who can do it.

Shortly after the World War, Dr. Spears was coaching a great team at Dartmouth. On the eleven were such players as Bill Cunningham, Gus Sonnenberg, Cuddy Murphy, Eddie Youngstrom and Jackson Cannell. The doctor is a pretty good hand at inspiring his charges.

Bill Cunningham, now a Boston newspaperman, tells the story of one important occasion when Spears took Murphy and Gus the Goat to one side before the game and addressed them in this manner:

"If each of you birds can make 15 tackles in the first quarter out you come!"

Move Over, Gus!
Dartmouth kicked off. On the first play Murphy tackled his man around the neck and Sonnenberg had him around the ankles. The second play was a sweeping end run. Murphy smashed in through the interference and was just getting set to dive for the ball-carrier's shoestrings, when, from the other side of the line, Sonnenberg dashed in and nailed the runner from behind.

Murphy seized Sonnenberg by the scruff of the neck (Sonnenberg has a neck) and, red with rage, shouted into his ear:

"You little so-and-so and this-and-that and these-and-those! How can I make my 15 tackles if you keep hounding in on my plays!"

Maybe the good doctor infused some of that same spirit into his Oregon boys before they took the field to beat New York U and shook the whole football world.

You Pro Fans—Look Here!
Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, started something in his column recently. It's a declaration that Notre Dame could beat the Bears or Packers! Read it yourself:

A comparison of college and professional football is ridiculous in the opinion of a large percentage of the readers who have taken enough interest in the discussion to write in their views. They contend that the post graduate game is so much superior there is no comparison.

"Having spent several years of his life in the business of being ridiculous, this writer does not hesitate to state that, in his estimation, with due allowance for reshuffling of war debts and reparations and recognition of the polluted condition of some of the Wisconsin streams, there is at least one college football team that can whip the Bears or the Packers any or every weekend of the season."

"If any one doubts it, I wish he would arrange a game between Notre Dame and either the Packers or the Bears for Soldiers' field Dec. 6."

"There probably are two or three other rah rah elevens that could turn the trick, but I would be willing to wager my oil wells, copper mines and handball glove only on Notre Dame."

"I wasn't read to shoot the works until I saw the Packers defeat the Bears at Wrigley field Sunday afternoon. This was supposed to represent the ultimate in gridiron technique. Maybe it was. But I am sure I have seen college teams, led by 19 or 20 year-old quarterbacks, show better strategy than either of these outstanding professional elevens displayed Sunday."

"Nobody left Wrigley field feeling he had not received his money's worth. There have been few games more exciting. But as I watched expert backs fumble the ball on line plunges, throw forward passes to unprotected parts of the field and permit themselves to be trapped behind the goal line for safeties there was an increased yearning to see what would happen if they made mistakes like these against Notre Dame."

"I pick Notre Dame as my stand-bearer against the pros because it has the replacements to survive the physical strain of competing against heavier and more matured men. Then, too, Notre Dame is more versatile both on attack and defense than any college eleven I can name. It knows four or five ways to handle every play where most teams are satisfied if they have mastered one. The Irish are equally dangerous on land or in the air."

"The pros, of course, would have greater weight, but added poundage does no particular good when your man scoots past before you realize what is going on. Russell Saunders, the 175-pound Green Bay boy, who is playing his first year in post-graduate football, proved that Sunday."

"And the clinching argument, as submitted by Bob Zupke and Dick Harney, is the collegians' zest for the game."

"Now, readers, it is your turn to shoot. I hope for the best but fear for the worst. I shall try to hear up with Spartan fortitude."

"I might add that I picked Stribling to whip Schmelzing."

ORGANIZE Y. M. C. A. CAGE LEAGUE NOV. 14

The final organization meeting of the Industrial basketball league will be held at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, Nov. 14, according to an announcement made by W. S. The league must be organized at the meeting, it is said, so that play can be started the first week in December.

At a meeting Wednesday night five teams were represented, the Miller Cords, Power company, Bears, Co. D. and United Cigars. Several other teams are known to be interested in entering the league. An eight team league will be formed.

WALKER, STRIBLING MAY BATTLE DEC. 11

Efforts Being Made to Match Heavyweights for Christmas Fund

New York—(P)—Mickey Walker's third chance at a ranking heavyweight probably will come again: Young Stribling in Madison Square Garden Dec. 11 for the New York American's Christmas fund.

Negotiations have reached the point where Stribling's handlers have agreed to the match, which, if completed, will send the Macon heavyweight against a major opponent for the first time since his decisive defeat by Max Schmeling in Cleveland July 5.

Walker, who beat Johnny Riske at Miami in February and drew with Jack Sharkey here this summer, originally offered his services to the Christmas fund with the idea of meeting Sharkey again. The Boston sealer, however, turned down the bout.

Some observers professed doubt as to whether Walker's manager, Jack Kearns, would agree to the Stribling match.

They pointed out that prospects of a title match between Walker and Schmeling in Los Angeles, Feb. 22, recently have looked very rosy and they doubted whether Kearns would jeopardize such a bout by sending Walker against Stribling.

A definite decision as to the Walker-Stribling tangle was expected within a day or two.

TAIT LITTMAN WILL ENTER HEAVY TOURNEY

Milwaukee—(P)—Announcement that Tait Littman, Cudahy, would be entered in the national boxing association's light heavyweight championship tournament at the Chicago Stadium was made here today by Eddie Mitchell, Littman's manager.

Littman recently was eliminated from the N. B. A. middleweight tournament here by Angel Clivelle, the Porto Rican champion.

Green Bay—The Green Bay Packers in their determined bid for their third successive national pro football championship have participated in a scoring spree this fall which puts Coach Lambeau's team far in the lead in the point scoring column.

In eight games, the Packers have scored 187 points or more than Portsmouth and the Chicago Bears combined. Portsmouth, the second place club in the percentage table has counted 119 points in nine games while the New York Giants are credited with 75 in seven contests and the Chicago Bears 67 in a half-dozen combats. Philadelphia trails in the point scoring with only 13 but strange to relate all these points were chalked up in the game against the Bears and brought about the Yellowjackets' only victory of the season.

On the defensive, Portsmouth sets the pace, as 30 points have been scored against the Spartans in their six contests with their opponents counting 39 points. Rivals of the Packers have come through with 42 points. The records show Brooklyn as the weakest defensive team as the scores of the Dodgers are credited with 127 points.

The Green Bay-Providence game which was played here on Sunday, Oct. 25 was the year's high point tilt. There were 68 points recorded in this "track carnival," the Packers getting 45 and the Steam Rollers 20. The next biggest scoring affray was the Green Bay-Brooklyn, 32 to 6 skrimish early in the season here.

'Hunk' Anderson Can Name His 1932 Starting Lineup

BY FRANCIS J. POWERS Copyright 1931

CHICAGO—(CPA)—Well, Sir, if you are one of those fellows who believe with Ossie Solomon, the gentleman from Drake college, that this year's Notre Dame team is the greatest of all Notre Dame football machines, save a bit of enthusiasm for next year—1932.

A. D. It is very difficult to imagine, even with a triple A imagination, a better football team than the Notre Dames of 1929, 1930 and 1931. But Mr. Heartily Anderson may have it next year.

Why and how? The answer is very simple. Only five of the first and second team regulars—and there's really no difference in them—will receive parchment passports into the world of business or coaching next June. Anderson will have an army of veterans back for 1932 and those Notre Dame Fellows improve with age and experience.

Could Name '32 Lineup
Barring any scholastic breakdowns by his young men, Anderson probably could give you the line-up that will face the Haskell Indians in the opening duel of the 1932 campaign right now if he desired. However, Heartily likely would not wish to commit himself at the moment when he is very busy attempting to worry about Pennsylvania, Navy, Southern California and the Army. We merely say he could if he would.

But along about Dec. 15 Anderson probably will sit down in his cubby-hole office and decide that a backfield composed of Jaskwich, Sheeketski, Lukats and Melinkovich would be a very elegant combination to show the folks who come out to see the 1932 raiders open the campaign.

Will Mr. Anderson be troubled about his line? Mr. Anderson will not. He merely will write down Devore and Mahony, ends Krause and Kozak, tackles; Harris and Greeney, guards, and Gorman, center; that being done Heartily can amble down to South Bend and buy himself a swell lunch.

RUMOR SCHALK WILL MANAGE IN MINORS

Chicago—(P)—A pair of former Chicago White Sox managers, Ray Schalk and Clarence Rowland, may be partners in the operation of a minor league baseball club next season.

Schalk, it has been reported, will resign as Cub coach, to throw in with Rowland, who last season headed the Reading club of the International league. Rowland piloted the Sox to American league and world championship in 1917.

VIKING GRIDDERS MEET CARROLL "11" AGAIN TOMORROW

Delegation of Lawrence Students Expected to Accompany Team

LAWRENCE college football team will leave Saturday morning for Waukesha where it will meet Carroll college eleven in the feature attraction of the Pioneer homecoming. The game is the second of the two teams have played this season, the first one going to Lawrence by a score of 14 and 6.

Although it was a victory for the Vikes, the first game did not count for much. Saturday's contest is the real Big Four game and if the Vikes can win again, well, they'll have copped at least one league game this season and finish third in the standings.

Carroll Saturday will be a harder team to beat than it was earlier in the season. The Pioneers have a lot of possibilities and may rise to the heights when the alumni gather around. And then again they may not and nothing would be better for the Vikes than to celebrate a Carroll home coming with a victory.

The Lawrence eleven will be in pretty good condition for Saturday's game having had an opportunity to rest for two weeks. However, several of the boys, notably Collins, guard, have bruises which will keep them on the shelf.

Carroll last week took an unmerciful mauling from Ripon college eleven and may be a bit softened up for Lawrence. However, no bear stories have come out of the Pioneer city telling about any cripples.

A delegation of Lawrence students is expected to take the jaunt to Waukesha, a special rate of $3 a round trip having been secured over the Northwestern road. The fans will leave on the same train with the team. Return tickets are good any time Sunday. Arrangements for the trip were made by R. J. Watts, college business manager.

GOPHERS, WILDCATS WILL SETTLE BIG 10 GRID CHAMPIONSHIP

Illinois Hopes to Cash in on Wisconsin; Ohio Meets Navy

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO—(AP)—Hardly considered in advance predictions, Minnesota tomorrow will be in a spot to ruin Northwestern's western conference football championship drive.

Before the season opened, the Gophers, with Wisconsin and Ohio State, were rated as possible dark horses. Minnesota took care of Wisconsin last week and Northwestern turned back Ohio State the week before, and tomorrow they will clash at Dwyer Stadium, in what probably will be the championship game of the campaign.

Gophers Only Threat
Each has overcome two Big Ten opponents and Minnesota is ranked as the only serious threat remaining on the Wildcat schedule, but it will be a distinct upset if the Gophers prevail. Northwestern has a well balanced squad, with reserves almost as capable as its regulars, while the Gopher first stringers must bear the burden of the whole battle, leaving the Wildcats with a huge advantage.

For the first time of the season Chicago will have the edge in manpower over an opponent. Arkansas' Razorbacks, due in Chicago early today, had had only 22 actives on its list, while the Maroon squad, meager as it is, numbers 39 or more athletes. The Maroons will let go with everything they have in an effort to make a showing in the scoring column.

Illinois will not be in the best of shape for its engagement with Wisconsin, but stands a chance of springing an upset. Reports from Madison say that the Badger forces have had most of the fight taken out of them by the Pennsylvania and Minnesota defeats and the Illinois are ready to cash in, if Wisconsin sags.

Michigan has a passing attack all rigged up to use against Indiana if necessary, but probably will rely on fullback Bill Hewitt and its running attack, saving the aerial game for Minnesota. The Hoosier squad will be in good shape, with the return of Fitz Hugh Lyons, Negro end, and the addition of Oren, a huge fullback, to the first string.

Ohio vs. Navy
Ohio State expects a hard battle with Navy, but the Buckeyes are confident of winning and will spend no more than necessary on the Midshipmen. Purdue also will take it as easily as possible against Centenary, but Iowa is planning to go the limit for a victory over Nebraska. Coach Burt Ingwersen has pulled another pair of ends out of his bag and the Cornhuskers probably will look at a lot of passes.

Notre Dame had made no elaborate preparation for Pennsylvania, and probably will make none for Navy, saving everything for the big battle with Southern California two weeks hence. Marquette will present its most powerful offensive force against Washington and Jefferson when they meet at Milwaukee, with the return of Gene Romani and Johnny Sisk.

Sports Question Box

Q.—Was Paul Berlenbach knocked out by Jack Delaney when he lost the light heavyweight title?

A.—No. Delaney won on points in fifteen rounds. Delaney stopped Berlenbach before he won the title.

Q.—Should a catcher practice throwing the ball all of the time to perfect his aim?

A.—Don't exercise your arm too much and never continue throwing it to second base until your arm is almost too tired to move it. It is a long, hard throw and it can be overdone.

Q.—How many Protestants are there in the Notre Dame student body?

A.—About ten per cent of the students are Protestants.

Q.—What are the records in the standing high and running high jumps? Who holds them?

A.—Standing high, Leo Goehring, U. S. A. 5 feet 5 1/2 inches. Running high, H. M. Osborn, U. S. A. 6 feet 8 1/2 inches.

Q.—Did Primo Carnera do any boxing in Italy before he met the top notchers?

A.—No. Primo was discovered working with a circus in France and did most of his fighting in that country.

WILDCAT GRID STAR'S MARRIAGE REVEALED

Evanston, Ill.—(AP)—Ken Meenan, star Northwestern halfback, may be expected to play his best football against Minnesota Saturday—for his worries over a secret marriage are over.

Meenan was married to Miss Helen Major, daughter of the representative of an eastern woolen goods concern, last August. Yesterday she appeared in superior court asking annulment of the marriage on the grounds that she was not of age when the rapid fire nuptials were celebrated. Her plea was granted, but Meenan's worries were not over until he learned that he had not violated a university rule, the penalty for which is expulsion.

There is a rule at Northwestern against student marriages but it does not apply if the marriages are contracted during the summer vacation. Miss Major and Meenan were wed in August, and the fact that she was not a student, worked in his favor. He is from Oak Park, Ill., but lives at the Phi Delta Theta fraternity house on the Northwestern campus.

VIKING GIRLS HOLD SWIMMING PARTY

Annette Meyer, Milwaukee, walked off with individual honors at the swimming party held by the Lawrence Women's Athletic association Wednesday evening at the Alexander gymnasium, when she took first in the 50 yard free style and the 50 yard side stroke.

The affair was an informal swimming meet, some races being regular while others, such as balloon races, and stunt diving, contributed to the informality of the party.

The events and the winners are as follows:

50 yard free style: Annette Meyer, first; Florence Marcell, second.

50 yard side stroke: Annette Meyer, first.

25 yard free style: Grace Meyer, first; Florence Marcell, second.

50 yard breast stroke: Ellen Lew, first; Janet Smith, second.

Ballon Race: Irene Lewis, first.

Stunt diving: Elva Marie Turk, first; Helen Brodin, second.

Diving: Betty Plowright, first; Dorothy Calman, second.

Arrangements for the meet were made by Ellen Lewis, who also was in charge of the event.

It Is Said--

That fear of a protracted area meant over the moving picture operators' ordinance might have been the impetus for the speedy way in which city business was transacted at the council meeting Wednesday night. However, it is the opinion of some that the "summetime-over-the-breakfast-table" worries of the six members of the board of review, who have been constantly closeted together for over two weeks, may have had something to do with it.

Teachers College Battles Interest State Grid Fans

BY E. L. ALMEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
MADISON—(AP)—Two games bearing on the championship in the state teachers college conference and a colorful intercollegiate match vie for attention from Wisconsin football fans this week-end.

While the various Wisconsin colleges are turning one of the last legs in the 1931 football race at home, the University of Wisconsin meets Illinois at Urbana.

Stivers Point and Oshkosh teachers unions can rearrange the entire conference standings this week-end. In a game with Whitefish Bay and Oshkosh, respectively, Oshkosh and Whitefish Bay will lift their record to 3-0 and Oshkosh will drop their opponents from first to second or third place.

Edna, Oshkosh and Stivers, both of which have not won a conference game, will meet at Oshkosh in a game which will be a battle for the championship. The game will be played at River Falls.

With the four conference titles in the line, the new fields on the 100th day of the season, the Madison State at East Lansing game will demand smart footballing from a Kappa victory. Lawton's game must Carroll at Waukegan, looking out to get out of the cellar while Oshkosh takes on the Lake Forest freshmen at Beloit.

Madison university hopes for its third straight intercollegiate victory when the Golden Avalanche tackles Washington and Jefferson at Milwaukee. Marquette defeated Boston college at Boston two weeks ago and followed this game with a victory over Mississippi at Milwaukee. The President's, however, hope to stop the Hilltoppers' habit of winning. Wisconsin's Badgers, out of the conference race except for a mathematical possibility of a tie for first place, should dispose of Illinois this week-end. The Badgers have failed to show much with its seven opponents thus far and should fall prey to the team's weaker line and the speedy Oshkosh backs.

LADY with a PAST

BY HARRIET HENRY

SYNOPSIS: For a long carefree week, Venice Muir has roamed about Paris, happy that her social failures in New York are left behind her. Her mother has brought her to Paris to make a fresh start in the struggle for popularity. Mrs. Muir has had a severe cold, which prevents her from looking up her friends, and gives Venice freedom to be herself and do what she wants. Venice is fond of reading and analyzing people. If it were not for her mother's passion for society, she would try to write. On the boat she has met a young man, Johnny Maple, who promises to look her up in Paris. She meets a girl in the hotel lounge and they fall into conversation. The girl says that she is over alone, that she broke loose from her family because it is partly mad and she hates parties. "So do I," Venice says. "Why do you?"

Chapter 15
A CAMEL AT ZELLI'S
"I don't care about me. I have three beautiful sisters and I'm famed in Philadelphia as the family's ugly duckling." Venice exclaimed. "Well, it doesn't matter anyway," the other girl said. "What are parties?" Venice stared. "Why, every-thing you figure that?" "What else is there for a girl well brought-up but popularity?" The girl suddenly regarded Venice as if she must be exceedingly stupid. "Books and plays and travelling. Interesting people here and there who don't care whether you're pretty or not." "Don't you miss attention?" Venice asked. "You never feel lonely?" "Certainly not. I think I'm happier than my sisters who are forever worrying about one man or another. Nothing can worry me outside myself." This last statement was made with a certain triumph. There was a pause. Venice's mind was racing over this new viewpoint. She was trying to adjust it to herself. The girl looked at her watch. "I'm off to bed," she said. They parted in the elevator. "Good night," said the girl. "Good night," Venice echoed, walking towards her room. She must model herself along the lines of this girl. "Venice, Venice!" It was Mrs. Muir's fretful voice. "Yes, Mother. How are you feeling?" "A lot better, I think. I was just wondering. Have you heard from that Johnny Maple?" "Something that the girl with the big eyes had left with Venice evaporated. "No," she said somberly. "Well, it would be too bad if you didn't glean a single invitation from your crossing." "Yes," Venice agreed wearily. "Good night, Mother. I do hope you'll feel better in the morning." "Good night, dear."

"I never had a better time," she said. She went into her room. The door of her mother's was open and the light was lit. There were footsteps. "Wey, Mother," she called. "you shouldn't be up." "Miss Muir, it's Doctor Hawks." She stopped abruptly. He stood in the doorway, a tall, dark silhouette against the light. She couldn't see his face. Something inside of her turned over, clutched suddenly at her heart. "What is it?" she asked in a low, frightened voice. "Is mother worse?" "Yes," he blocked the entrance. There was something ominous in the kindness of his voice. Something terrifying in the way he prevented her passing. (Copyright, Harriet Henry).

Venice pushes past Doctor Hawks tomorrow to find—what?

LAVAL-HOOVER PACT FACES STERN TEST IN FRENCH CHAMBER

Premier Must Explain to Parliament What He Did in Berlin, London Also

BY HUDSON HAWLEY
Paris—(AP)—Premier Laval, eleven days after his return from America, will again have a parliament on his hands.

To it he must explain just what he did in Washington as well as on his earlier visits to Berlin and London.

From the little front bench in the sizable amphitheater that seats the chamber of deputies, or from its counterpart in the senate, the premier, beginning November 12, will have to defend the policies of his government in those terse, driving debates at which he is a master.

M. Laval closed a brusque reading of the "decree of cloture" as was his constitutional right. But the opposition in the chamber, composed of radicals and socialists with Edouard Herriot in the van, did not like it.

In fact they voiced their displeasure with considerable noise. Memories of that scene may be evoked when the premier reappears on the floor.

Unemployment Issue
If he follows the usual procedure, M. Laval will ask that all interpellations on foreign policies be grouped and discussed on Fridays. That course, however, would delay a verdict on the trip to America and it is likely that the debate on that subject will be hastened.

Foremost among the domestic problems to be discussed is the second half of the "national equipment plan," designed to give winter work to the unemployed and thus save off extremist agitation.

This is the pet project of Andre Tardieu, former premier and now minister of public works, but the whole Laval government is pushing it.

But the big, long drawn out task before the legislators is the national budget for 1932. This must be finished by the first of April in order to avoid recourse to the costly expedient of provisional credits.

May Debate Tariff
Other measures calling for parliament's attention include the percentage of foreign wheat to be imported, the naval building program, recruiting for the navy, some readjustment of the tariff and a socialist proposal to restore proportional representation in the legislative elections of next May.

RESULT OF TAX CASE MAY STRENGTHEN LAWS

Madison—(AP)—The state tax commission said today that enforcement of the inheritance tax laws will be strengthened if the supreme court upholds a ruling by Judge Michael S. Sheridan of Milwaukee-co court, in a case involving a tax upon nearly $2,000,000 worth of gifts from an estate.

Henry Harnischfeger, head of a

Chart of New Planet

Discovery of a new planet, named tentatively Planet P, has been announced by Professor William H. Pickering at his Mandeville observatory, on the island of Jamaica. Professor Pickering is shown at the right. A chart of the new planet's orbit is given above. Its estimated distance from the sun is 5,500,000,000 miles and its diameter 44,000 miles being third in size of the 10 planets.

Milwaukee manufacturing plant gave $1,934,505 in stock and cash to members of his family after his 74th birthday and within a year of his death.

Judge Sheridan ruled yesterday that these gifts were made in anticipation of death and therefore were subject to an inheritance tax of $200,000 to $250,000.

Testimony was introduced to show that Mr. Harnischfeger was active at the time the gifts were made, but the death certificate also was offered to show that he had suffered from heart disease for years.

The tax commission said the state has lost great sums of inheritance taxes through the making of gifts, because it could not prove the gifts were in anticipation of death unless the donor was ill and in danger of death at the time.

Counsel for the Harnischfeger family plan to appeal to the supreme court.
